Communicating Artificial Intelligence (AI) Seungahn Nah, Jasmine E. McNealy, Jang Hyun Kim, Jungseock Joo, 2020-12-28 Despite increasing scholarly attention to artificial intelligence AI studies at the intersection of AI and communication remain ripe for exploration including investigations of the social, political, cultural and ethical aspects of machine intelligence interactions among agents and social artifacts. This book tackles these unexplored research areas with special emphasis on conditions, components and consequences of cognitive, attitudinal, affective and behavioural dimensions toward communication and AI. In doing so, this book epitomizes communication journalism and media scholarship on AI and its social, political, cultural and ethical perspectives. Topics vary widely from interactions between humans and robots through news representation of AI and AI-based news credibility to privacy and value toward AI in the public sphere. Contributors from such countries as Brazil, Netherlands, South Korea, Spain and United States discuss important issues and challenges in AI and communication studies. The collection of chapters in the book considers implications for not only theoretical and methodological approaches but policymakers and practitioners alike. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Communication Studies.
