Written by:Mohsen Karbassi

Tempo: 140 pm

The musical score is written for piano and consists of five systems of music. Each system contains a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The key signature is A minor (no sharps or flats). The tempo is marked as 140 pm (per minute). The score includes various dynamic markings: p (piano), f (forte), mp (mezzo-piano), and ff (fortissimo). The first system starts with a p marking and includes a repeat sign. The second system starts with a mp marking. The third system starts with a p marking. The fourth system starts with a ff marking and includes a repeat sign. The fifth system starts with a p marking. The score is written in a style that is common for sheet music, with notes, rests, and bar lines clearly visible.

Iranian Culture Nasrin Rahimieh,2015-08-27 Throughout modern Iranian history culture has served as a means of imposing unity and cohesion onto society The Pahlavi monarchs used it to project an image of Iran as an ancient civilisation re emerging as an equal to Western nations while the revolutionaries deployed it to remake the country into an Islamic nation Just as Iranian culture has been continually re interpreted the representations and avocations of Iranian identity vary amongst Iranians across the world Iranian Culture Representation and Identity demonstrates these fissures and the incompatibilities that refuse to be written out of national culture analysing works of literature popular music graphic art and film as well as oral narratives Using works produced before and after the 1979 revolution created both inside and outside of Iran this study reveals neglected complexities and contradictions in the field of Iranian cultural production It considers how contested claims to culture whether they originated in Iran or the Iranian diaspora shape our understanding of this culture and what spaces they create for new articulations of it and in doing so offers an important re examination of our collective concept of culture This book would be an excellent resource for students and scholars of Middle East Studies and Iranian Studies specifically Iranian culture including film and contemporary literature and the Iranian diaspora

The Piano Tuner Peter Meinke,2012-03-15

In The Piano Tuner Peter Meinke writes of the foreignness that awaits us when we go abroad and when we answer our own front door to admit a stranger that confronts us in unfamiliar cities and villages and in the equally disquieting surroundings of our memories and regrets. Often in these stories what seems a safe comfortable environment turns suddenly threatening. In the title story a writer's quiet existence amid his antiques and books is dismantled piece by piece by a demonic beer-bellied piano tuner. In The Ponoos a man recalls how as a young boy living in Brooklyn during World War II he became a collaborationist in the brutal pranks of two Irish bullies. In The Twisted River the sedate collegiality of a Polish university is disrupted when an American on a Fulbright grant attempts to blackmail two faculty members. And in The Bracelet a young anthropology student doing field work in Africa finds herself drawn further and further into the role of a priestess of Oshun into a life dictated by the configuration of cowry shells cast upon the floor. Meinke writes of a world where our control over our lives seldom exists across a border and often extends no further than our fingertips. Attempts to bridge two cultures, two lives are sometimes successful as when an actor finds love in the arms of a tough talking barmaid but more usually lead to disillusionment as when a hard drinking salesman's career is shattered after he is drunk under the table one night by a Polish engineer or when an English father struggles to find common ground with his American son. Riveting almost terrifying the stories in The Piano Tuner tell of decent men and women caught in events that they could never have predicted would never have chosen.

The Piano on Film David Huckvale, 2022-03-02 Since the early days of silent film accompaniment the piano has played an integral part in the history of cinema Film's fascination with the piano both in soundtracks and onscreen as a status symbol and icon of popular romanticism offers a revealing opportunity to chart the changing perception of the instrument From Mozart to Elton John this book surveys the cultural history of the piano through the instrument's cinematic functions Composer biopics such as A Song to Remember romantic melodramas like the Liberace vehicle Sincerely Yours and horror films such as The Hands of Orlac along with animated cartoons featuring Bugs Bunny and Tom and Jerry demonstrate just how pervasive the cinematic image of the piano once was during a period when the piano itself began its noticeable decline in everyday life By examining these depictions of the piano onscreen readers will begin to understand not only the decline of the piano but also the decline of the idealistic culture to which it gave birth in the nineteenth century
