Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian,Charles Weiss,2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don t head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies

Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process. By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity. Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there. To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation. They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations. In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S s still strong research oriented innovation system.

Climate Change Adaptation and Development Tor Håkon Inderberg, Siri Eriksen, Karen O'Brien, Linda Sygna, 2014-11-20. Climate change poses multiple challenges to development. It affects lives and livelihoods infrastructure and institutions as well as beliefs cultures and identities. There is a growing recognition that the social dimensions of vulnerability and adaptation now need to move to the forefront of development policies and practices. This book presents case studies showing that climate change is as much a problem of development as for development with many of the risks closely linked to past present and future development pathways. Development policies and practices can play a key role in addressing climate change but it is critical to question to what extent such actions and interventions reproduce rather than address the social and political structures and development.

pathways driving vulnerability The chapters emphasise that adaptation is about much more than a set of projects or interventions to reduce specific impacts of climate change it is about living with change while also transforming the processes that contribute to vulnerability in the first place This book will help students in the field of climate change and development to make sense of adaptation as a social process and it will provide practitioners policymakers and researchers working at the interface between climate change and development with useful insights for approaching adaptation as part of a larger transformation to sustainability Techno-Vernacular Creativity and Innovation Nettrice R. Gaskins, 2021-08-10 A novel approach to STEAM learning that engages students from historically marginalized communities in culturally relevant and inclusive maker education The growing maker movement in education has become an integral part of both STEM and STEAM learning tapping into the natural DIY inclinations of creative people as well as the educational power of inventing or making things And yet African American Latino a American and Indigenous people are underrepresented in maker culture and education In this book Nettrice Gaskins proposes a novel approach to STEAM learning that engages students from historically marginalized communities in culturally relevant and inclusive maker education Techno vernacular creativity TVC connects technical literacy equity and culture encompassing creative innovations produced by ethnic groups that are often overlooked TVC uses three main modes of activity reappropriation remixing and improvisation Gaskins looks at each of the three modes in turn guiding readers from research into practice Drawing on real world examples she shows how TVC creates dynamic learning environments where underrepresented ethnic students feel that they belong Students who remix computationally for instance have larger toolkits of computational skills with which to connect cultural practices to STEAM subjects reappropriation offers a way to navigate cultural repertoires improvisation is firmly rooted in cultural and creative practices Finally Gaskins explores an equity oriented approach that makes a distinction between conventional or dominant pedagogical approaches and culturally relevant or responsive making methods and practices She describes TVC habits of mind and suggests methods of instructions and projects

Introduction to Modeling and Simulation with MATLAB® and Python Steven I. Gordon, Brian Guilfoos, 2017-07-12 Introduction to Modeling and Simulation with MATLAB and Python is intended for students and professionals in science social science and engineering that wish to learn the principles of computer modeling as well as basic programming skills The book content focuses on meeting a set of basic modeling and simulation competencies that were developed as part of several National Science Foundation grants Even though computer science students are much more expert programmers they are not often given the opportunity to see how those skills are being applied to solve complex science and engineering problems and may also not be aware of the libraries used by scientists to create those models The book interleaves chapters on modeling concepts and related exercises with programming concepts and exercises The authors start with an introduction to modeling and its importance to current practices in the sciences and engineering They introduce each of the programming environments and the syntax used to represent variables and compute mathematical equations and functions As students gain more programming expertise the authors return to modeling concepts providing starting code for a variety of exercises where students add additional code to solve the problem and provide an analysis of the outcomes In this way the book builds both modeling and programming expertise with a just in time approach so that by the end of the book students can take on relatively simple modeling example on their own Each chapter is supplemented with references to additional reading tutorials and exercises that guide students to additional help and allows them to practice both their programming and analytical modeling skills In addition each of the programming related chapters is divided into two parts one for MATLAB and one for Python In these chapters the authors also refer to additional online tutorials that students can use if they are having difficulty with any of the topics The book culminates with a set of final project exercise suggestions that incorporate both the modeling and programming skills provided in the rest of the volume Those projects could be undertaken by individuals or small groups of students The companion website at <http://www.intromodeling.com> provides updates to instructions when there are substantial changes in software versions as well as electronic copies of exercises and the related code The website also offers a space where people can suggest additional projects they are willing to share as well as comments on the existing projects and exercises throughout the book Solutions and lecture notes will also be available for qualifying instructors

Anthropology and Slavery at the Dawn of White Supremacy Michael L. Blakey, 2025-07-18 This volume examines biological and cultural data that debunk a primordial basis for racism It tracks the ancient history of all social inequity to agricultural and feudal societies The book then focuses on social and ideological developments in European societies associated with religious justifications for the enslavement of others The European Enlightenment built upon those prejudices with ideas about nature and acceptable natural causes of unequal social status for people newly classified into biological races Nineteenth century anthropology is critiqued by African diasporic scholars who are the first Americans to argue that nurture rather than nature is responsible for human variation The American Civil War brought slavery nearly to an end but racist science continued to grow as eugenics applied to justify otherwise unjustifiable structures of human inequality such as Jim Crow segregation as though they are morally sound In constructing this historical and sociological counternarrative the author provides a critical new social history that illuminates a tangled and turgid past for contemporary readers students and researchers with vital insights for anthropology sociology history cultural studies philosophy and American studies
