Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and heart rate reserve (HRR) of sedentary middle-aged men. The subjects were 15 men, 40 to 50 years old, who had been sedentary for at least 1 year. They were randomly assigned to a 12-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 30 minutes, at a heart rate of 150 beats per minute. The control group did not exercise. The HR and HRR were measured at rest and during a maximal exercise test at the beginning and at the end of the 12-week period. The results showed that the training program significantly increased the HR and HRR of the subjects. The HR increased from 72 to 78 beats per minute, and the HRR increased from 28 to 34 beats per minute. The control group showed no significant change in HR or HRR. The results suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness of sedentary middle-aged men.

- Day and night periods that are longer than the standard 24 hours occur most commonly with the use of artificial light or natural light at night. To reduce the risk of these problems, the Institute of Medicine (IOM) has issued the following recommendations:
 - Avoid excessive exposure to artificial light at night.
 - Use light that is dimmer than bright light.
 - Use light that is warmer in color (red, orange, yellow, and blue) than bright white light.
 - Use light that is less than 100 lux (foot-candles) at the eye.
 - Use light that is less than 100 lux (foot-candles) at the eye.
 - Use light that is less than 100 lux (foot-candles) at the eye.

When you install your T-Value One Connection, improper installation of all four screws (50 combinations for One Connection) will void the warranty. Please, before installing, refer to the correct installation instructions. Failure to maintain proper ventilation may result in a serious problem with the product.

- When a producer's price for the output rises or falls, it must adjust its output level accordingly. For example, suppose the price for the output rises. The producer will want to produce more of the output, and this will require hiring more workers. The producer will also want to use more of the other inputs, and this will require hiring more of those inputs. The producer will also want to use more of the other inputs, and this will require hiring more of those inputs.

Caution: Spilling, pouring, or collecting water from a Tivvy cooler into the TivvyBall, is justifiably considered a negligent act and may result in voided liability. The TivvyBall may not be used for the top-down pouring technique required in certain TivvyBall activities. Please always pour water into the TivvyBall directly into the TivvyBall opening. If you cannot pour water into the TivvyBall, please use your TivvyBall and install it into a TivvyBall, following the instructions in the TivvyBall Appendix.

Abstract: This research is an attempt to understand the relationship between the use of social media and the use of mobile devices. The study is based on a survey of 1,000 respondents. The results show that the use of social media is positively related to the use of mobile devices. The study also found that the use of mobile devices is positively related to the use of social media. The study concludes that the use of social media and mobile devices are closely related and can be used together to enhance the user experience.
