Convergent Journalism Woody Bing Liu, 2021-06-28 Convergent Journalism is an online news system that uses a range of media and methods to collect and present information. With the advent and growth of the Internet, this form of news has been flourishing globally and has become the mainstream in China. In 2014, the Chinese Government established media convergence as a national strategy. This book offers a panoramic view of the theories and practice of Convergent Journalism in a Chinese media landscape. Drawing on a plethora of cases, the author introduces concepts, subjects, and processes and elaborates on media components including text, visuals, audio, and video. In addition, he discusses the application of search engine optimization, hyperlinks in reporting, user interaction, and user creation of content. Aside from providing an in-depth theoretical analysis, the book provides much guidance for practitioners. Students, scholars, and professionals of communication studies, journalism, and media studies will benefit from this book. Broadcast News Workshop '99 Proceedings

Darpa, 1999-06-29 The Wedding Report Hans-Jürg Suter, 1993-09-01 Traditional text types or genres are complex linguistic, sociocultural, and cognitive phenomena that can only be analysed in flexible interdisciplinary frameworks fusing structural and process-oriented approaches and combining quantitative description with qualitative interpretation and evaluation. The theoretical and methodological implications of the prototypical text type concept, which is developed in this book, are explored in an exhaustive case study of a representative i.e. prototypical genre: the wedding report, a conventional type of news report published in local English newspapers. The distinctive contextual and textual features, situational context, text production processes, function, thematic structure, and form on the macro and microlevel are analysed synchronically and diachronically. The linguistic findings are integrated into a comprehensive view of the interplay between the genre as a linguistic frame and its sociocultural context. The study puts special emphasis on addressing the methodological problems arising from the inherent fuzziness of traditional text types and can thus serve as a detailed working model of genre analysis designed to be adapted to the specific requirements of similar studies. The Civil Power of the News Jackie

Harrison, 2019-10-18 This landmark book is concerned with the civil power of the news. This power can be seen in the ways the news engages with public sentiment through a focus on three invariant civil concerns: identity, legitimacy, and risk. The book analyses how news stories engage with these concerns to make civil and anti-civil judgements which influence public sentiment and determine the boundaries we place and maintain around the society we live in. Through historical and contemporary examples of this boundary shaping and maintenance, The Civil Power of the News presents a bold and original account of the architecture of news, the influence it has on our conceptions of civility, and ultimately the power it wields.
