Perception Is Reality Perception Series Volume 1:

Perception Is Reality Fred Gibson, 2014-11-14 Agent Tiki Gibbs 25 year veteran of The Agency a super secret government group that specializes in finding people who do not wish to be found receives a message in the form of a simple piece of paper in a windstorm The notecard only says I m Searching For You Agent Gibbs as levelheaded and grounded as they come looked upon the message warily Maybe it was nothing more than simple human curiosity that got him to make that initial inquiry Maybe it was the oddity that the message kept changing in his hands sometimes adding a picture of an island paradise other times adding ten simple digits a phone number in Hawaii But mostly it was the fact that only HE could see the message No one else not even his girlfriend Christiana could see anything other than a blank piece of paper Making that phone call started Agent Gibbs off on the biggest manhunt of his career a search that takes him across the country looking for 96 escapees of the Perception Is Reality Project Where those escapees are going is not the big question Where they have come from IS A Beginner's History of Philosophy, Vol. 1: Ancient and Mediaeval Philosophy Herbert Ernest

Cushman, 2022-06-13 Though written in the early 1900s A Beginner s History of Philosophy is just as relevant today as it was when it was first written Meant to be an introduction to the topic Cushman a passionate philosophy scholar makes sure to break down the fundamental parts of the topic The result is an easy to read and easy to understand text that has been inspiring students to delve deeper into philosophy for over a century There have been dozens of philosophy textbooks written over the years but none of them manage to balance education and entertainment quite like Cushman Intimacy and the Anxieties of Cinematic Flesh Patrick Fuery, 2023-01-26 In a return to Edmund Husserl and Sigmund Freud Intimacy and the Anxieties of Cinematic Flesh explores how we can engage these foundational thinkers of phenomenology and psychoanalysis in an original approach to film The idea of the intimate spectator caught up in anxiety is developed to investigate a range of topics central to these critical approaches and cinema including flesh as a disruptive state formed in the relationships of intimacy and anxiety time and the formation of cinema s enduring objects space and things the sensual the real and the unconscious wildness disruption and resistance and the nightmare reading phantasy across the critical fields Along with Husserl and Freud other key thinkers discussed include Edith Stein Roman Ingarden Maurice Merleau Ponty Mikel Dufrenne in phenomenology Melanie Klein Ernest Jones Julia Kristeva and Rosine Lefort in psychoanalysis Framing these issues and critical approaches is the question how might Husserlian phenomenology and Freudian Lacanian psychoanalysis so often seen as contradistinctive be explored through their potential commonalities rather than differences In addressing such a question this book postulates a new approach to film through this phenomenological psychoanalytic reconceptualization A wide range of films are examined not simply as exemplars but to test the idea that cinema itself can be a version of critical thinking Social Cognitive Psychology David F. Barone, James E. Maddux, C. R. Snyder, 2012-11-19 A pragmatic social cognitive psychology covers a lot of territory mostly in personality and social psychology but also in clinical counseling and school psychologies It spans a topic construed as an experimental study of mechanisms by its natural science wing and as a study of cultural interactions by its social science wing To learn about it one should visit laboratories field study settings and clinics and one should read widely If one adds the fourth dimension time one should visit the archives too To survey such a diverse field it is common to offer an edited book with a resulting loss in integration This book is coauthored by a social personality psychologist with historical interests DFB Parts I II and IV in collaboration with two social clinical psychologists CRS and JEM Parts III and V We frequently cross reference between chapters to aid integration without duplication To achieve the kind of diversity our subject matter represents we build each chapter anew to reflect the emphasis of its content area Some chapters are more historical some more theoretical some more empirical and some more applied All the chapters reflect the following positions

The Spiritual Senses Paul L. Gavrilyuk, Sarah Coakley, 2011-11-10 Is it possible to see hear touch smell and taste God How do we understand the biblical promise that the pure in heart will see God Christian thinkers as diverse as Origen of Alexandria Bonaventure Jonathan Edwards and Hans Urs von Balthasar have all approached these questions in distinctive ways by appealing to the concept of the spiritual senses In focusing on the Christian tradition of the spiritual senses this book discusses how these senses relate to the physical senses and the body and analyzes their relationship to mind heart emotions will desire and judgement The contributors illuminate the different ways in which classic Christian authors have treated this topic and indicate the epistemological and spiritual import of these understandings The concept of the spiritual senses is thereby importantly recovered for contemporary theological anthropology and philosophy of religion

pt. IV. The data of intellectual knowledge: sense perception. pt. V. Truth and certitude: their criteria and motives Peter Coffey, 1917 Modernism Between Benjamin and Goethe Matthew Charles, 2019-12-12 Widely regarded as one of the foremost cultural critics of the last century Walter Benjamin's relation to Modernism has largely been understood in the context of his reception of the aesthetic theories of Early German Romanticism and his associated interest in avant garde Surrealism But this Romantic understanding only gives half the picture Running through Benjamin's thought is also a critique of Romanticism developed in conjunction with a positive engagement with the philosophical artistic and historical writings of J W von Goethe In demonstrating the significance of these Goethean elements this book challenges the dominant understanding of Benjamin s philosophy as essentially Romantic and instead proposes that Goethe s Classicism conceived as the counterpoint to Romanticism permits a corrective to the latter s deficiencies Benjamin s Modernist concept of criticism it is argued is constituted in the movement between these polarities of Romanticism and Classicism Conversely placing Goethe s Classicism in relation to Benjamin s practice of literary criticism reveals historical tensions with Romanticism that constitute the untimely indeed it will be argued cinematic Modernism of his work Adopting a transcritical approach this book alternates between Benjamin and Goethe in relation to the experiences of colour language and technology assembling a constellation of philosophical and artistic figures between them including the writings of Kant Nietzsche Cohen Deleuze Koselleck Klages and the work of Gr newald Mar es Klee Turner Hulme Eisenstein Tretyakov and Murnau

Renaissance? Perceptions of Continuity and Discontinuity in Europe, c.1300- c.1550 ,2010-09-24 At least since the publication of Burckhardt s seminal study the Renaissance has commonly been understood in terms of discontinuities Seen as a radical departure from the intellectual and cultural norms of the Middle Ages it has often been associated with the revival of classical Antiquity and the transformation of the arts and has been viewed primarily as an Italian phenomenon In keeping with recent revisionist trends however the essays in this volume explore moments of profound intellectual artistic and geographical continuity which challenge preconceptions of the Renaissance Examining themes such as Shakespearian tragedy Michelangelo s mythologies Johannes Tinctoris view of music the advent of printing Burgundian book collections and Bohemian renovatio this volume casts a revealing new light on the Renaissance Contributors include Kl ra Bene ovsk Robert Black Stephen Bowd Matteo Burioni Ingrid Ciulisov Johannes Grave Luke Houghton Robin Kirkpatrick Alexander Lee Diotima Liantini Andrew Pettegree Rhys W Roark Maria Ruvoldt Jeffrey Chipps Smith Robin Sowerby George Steiris Rob C Wegman and Hanno Wijsman

THE IMPACT OF ECONOMIC PERCEPTIONS ON SUPPORT FOR THE INCUMBENT GOVERNMENT: TESTING DIFFERENT

PERSPECTIVES ON HOW INDIVIDUALS ASSESS THE STATE OF THE ECONOMY Andreea STANCEA, 2025-01-01 This book explores the relationship between individuals economic perceptions and their support for incumbent governments in elections placing much emphasis on how personal economic well being influences voting decisions Based on the theory of economic voting it analyzes the extent to which favorable economic perceptions enhance the probability of re electing the incumbent The book uses rational choice models to investigate variables such as macroeconomic indicators and individual beliefs The present case study refers to Romania drawing comparisons with a number of European countries especially those situated in the core and periphery of the EU Analysis of the data from the 2012 Romanian Elections Study and the 2019 European Electoral Study serves to test these hypotheses The empirical research conducted in this book provides a comparative analysis of economic perceptions and government support presenting new evidence of the influence of economic perceptions on electoral behavior in transition economies The book finally states that political decisions by the public are driven by retrospective prospective sociotropic and egotropic views about the economy

Dealing with Bribery and Corruption in International Commercial Arbitration Emmanuel Obiora Igbokwe, 2023-01-10 International Arbitration Law Library Volume 65 International commercial arbitration is by no means free from bribery and corruption Although a plethora of legal scholarship clearly affirms this contention a thorough study on the particularly important question of the authority and duty of international commercial arbitrators to investigate a suspicion or indication of bribery or corruption sua sponte that is on their own initiative has been surprisingly lacking This important book fills this gap inter alia by locating sua sponte authority in the position of arbitral tribunals in establishing the facts of a case and ascertaining and applying the applicable normative standards In addition to providing a comprehensive examination of how the issue of bribery and corruption is dealt with in contemporary international commercial arbitration the book also highlights the role of arbitrators in global efforts to combat transnational commercial bribery and corruption Among others the following critical issues are thoroughly investigated arbitrability of issues of public interests intermediary contracts role of arbitrators in the fact finding process party autonomy versus overriding mandatory rules iura novit curia in international commercial arbitration in the context of bribery and corruption notion of transnational or truly international public policy arbitrators duty to act as guardians of international commerce investigative tools available to arbitrators dealing with manifestly recalcitrant parties possible consequences of violating the obligation to sua sponte investigate and the view from developing countries The analysis leans primarily on Swiss law as Switzerland is one of the most important jurisdictions in international commercial arbitration Switzerland has also been involved in some of the most famous and controversial arbitration cases wherein bribery and corruption became an issue However the study also includes a comparative analysis of the relevant laws jurisprudence and doctrine of other major arbitration venues particularly England France and Germany Not only in the light it sheds on how and whether international commercial arbitrators have hitherto justified the trust States have placed in them regarding the protection of the public interests but also in the practical solutions it offers arbitrators faced with issues of bribery and corruption this deeply researched book equips arbitration practitioners and arbitration institutions with a hitherto lacking in depth analysis on the question of sua sponte investigation It also provides invaluable insights on how this issue might affect the future legitimacy and expansion of this dispute settlement mechanism Outside the field of arbitration the book also provides jurists legal scholars in house counsel for companies doing transnational business and public officials with highly enlightening perspectives on the interaction between international commercial arbitration and public interests Handbook of Psychology, Experimental Psychology Alice F. Healy, Robert W. Proctor, 2003-03-11 Includes established theories and cutting edge developments Presents the work of an international group of experts Presents the nature origin implications and future course of major unresolved issues in the area Perceptions of Iran Ali M. Ansari, 2013-11-30 I B Tauris in association with the Iran Heritage Foundation From the Sasanian to the Safavid Empire and from Qajar Iran to the current Islamic Republic the history of Iran is one which has been coloured by a rich tradition of myths and narratives and shaped by its wealth of philosophers cultural theorists and political thinkers Perceptions of Iran dissects the construction of Iranian identity to reveal how nationalism has been continually re formulated and how Iran s self perception has been moulded by its literary past Here Ali M Ansari gathers together a varied and wide ranging account of the long history of Iranian encounters with the Western world whether via the observations of Herodotus or the knowledge via the Old Testament of Cyrus liberating the Jews from Babylon or into the modern era when nineteenth and twentieth century interactions reflect the unequal power relationship between Iran and the West Perceptions of Iran also explores the salient elements in the country s narrative which helped to form Iran s identity such as Ferdowsi s creation of the Shahnameh the national epic the exquisite architecture of Safavid Isfahan or the unfulfilled promise of the Constitutional Movement in the early twentieth century It offers analysis of the Qajar Shahs use of a mythical and dynastic past as they drew on the narratives of Jamshid s glory and Khusraw s splendour in order to legitimise their rule At the same time it examines the ways in which foreign travellers and diplomats understood and conceived of the royal courts of Safavid Persia As it covers 2 500 years of political and intellectual history Perceptions of Iran ties together the diverse threads of Iranian experience that have underpinned the country s social and cultural movements spanning Mirza Agha Khan Kermani s writing on Persian history and liberal nationalism through to the strident anti Western discourses of Seyyed Jamal al Afghani Jalal Al e Ahmad and Ayatollah Khomeini The book is therefore vital for researchers of Iranian history and those interested in the use of myth in the construction of national identity more widely

Spatial Cognition Christian Freksa, Christopher Habel, Karl F. Wender, 2003-05-20 Research on spatial cognition is a rapidly evolving interdisciplinary enterprise for the study of spatial representations and cognitive spatial processes be they real or abstract human or machine Spatial cognition brings together a variety of search methodologies empirical investigations on human and animal orientation and navigation studies of communicating spatial knowledge using language and graphical or other pictorial means the development of formal models for representing and processing spatial knowledge and computer implementations to solve spatial problems to simulate human or animal orientation and navigation behavior or to reproduce spatial communication patterns These approaches can interact in interesting and useful ways Results from empirical studies call for formal explanations both of the underlying memory structures and of the processes operating upon them we can develop and implement operational computer models obeying the relationships between objects and events described by the formal models we can empirically test the computer models under a variety of conditions and we can compare the results to the results from the human or animal experiments A disagreement between these results can provide useful indications towards the refinement of the models

Food Texturology: Measurement and Perception of Food Textural Properties Andrew Rosenthal, Jianshe Chen, 2023-12-20 The concept behind this book is to take a holistic view of food texture starting with the determination of food texture its perception in the mouth and its measurement by both sensory and instrumental methods and to examine the relation between them The book has been divided into four sections Fundamentals Sensory and Human Interactions Instrumental Analysis and Food Products Essentially we cover the techniques used for measuring food texture and then apply them to the different product groups Readers of the first edition will notice the title has changed with the adoption of the term texturology In the long history of food texture research texturology has been occasionally used in literature The term texturology has not been widely accepted by texture researchers texturologists because of their concern over whether the theories and techniques are broad and strong enough to support texture research as a scientific discipline. During the 24 years since the publication of the first edition the editors have observed vast developments in theories as well as the assessment methodology of food texture both sensory and instrumental and these have shaped our understanding. This second edition brings the science up to date by introducing topics not previously covered e.g. psychophysics, tribology, oral processing, texture maps and special foods for dysphagia patients. It includes an exposé of the instruments to measure food texture and also considers techniques for measuring consumer perception of food texture in addition to the sensory properties. Additionally it amends omissions from the first edition such as dairy products, fish, bakery products and sugar confectionery as product groups. All in all it is expanded and updated in its coverage of food texturology as a coherent scientific discipline.
