Hamatake, Johnson Y. N. Lau, 2008-02-01 Despite the availability of an effective vaccine there are still 400 million people worldwide who are chronically infected with hepatitis B virus HBV For them the vaccine as currently applied has no value Given the possible consequences of HBV infection the number of those chronically infected with HBV presents an enormous public health challenge For example the major etiology of hepatocellular carcinoma HCC is chronic infection with HBV Although fifth in cancer incidence worldwide HCC liver cancer is the third leading cause of cancer death The high mortality associated with HCC arises because the disease is often detected late and is unresponsive to treatment The number of deaths caused by PHCC is expected to rise over the next 20 years Those chronically infected with HBV have a life risk of death to HCC of between 10 and 25% Even the limited efficacy of drugs for the treatment of chronic HBV helps underscore the point that this disease is responsive to therapy Drugs that target the polymerase e.g. hepsera and lamivudine and interferon alpha represent two distinct strategies and show that both conventional antiviral and immunotherapeutic approaches can be used in management However the current inventory of therapeutics is inadequate Interferon alpha is of limited value only parenterally available and fraught with adverse reactions Resources in Education, 1997

Transitioning Care from Pediatric to Adult Pulmonology Cynthia D. Brown, Erin Crowley, 2021-04-28 This book addresses an unmet need in the care of adolescents and young adults with lung disease The increasing survival of young adults with childhood onset pulmonary conditions is a testament to major advances in treatments and health care delivery With the increase in survival of children with chronic respiratory conditions there is a need for formalized transition programs to integrate adolescents and young adults into the adult model of care This book helps fill gaps in knowledge to best achieve that initiative This book takes a comprehensive approach to transition care in pulmonary medicine by satisfying the following objectives 1 Understand the barriers and developmental challenges in the transition from pediatric to adult care for patients with chronic childhood onset pulmonary disease 2 Learn about successful evidence based transition models in pulmonary disease populations focusing on key process and outcome measures for success and 3 Develop knowledge to design implement and measure a transition program based on evidence and expert opinion In the first section the book outlines general principles of transition care that are applicable to all patients regardless of underlying disease process and describe best practices for performing necessary research in transition care In the second section the book explores psychosocial factors known to play a role in affecting transition outcomes including parental support psychological development and socioeconomic factors In the final section transition outcomes and best practices in specific respiratory diseases are outlined With a focus on populations with chronic pulmonary disease this book highlights the challenges and barriers of transition reviews model systems to understand the essential components of a transition program and provides evidence based information to navigate these barriers and achieve successful outcomes during transition to adulthood This is an ideal guide for pediatric and adult pulmonary providers caring for patients who are transition age as well as multidisciplinary care team members who work with these providers in care models on transition projects to improve the transition process Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1995
