Newspaper Death Penalty:

The Penalty is Death Marlin Shipman, 2002 In 1872 Susan Eberhart was convicted of murder for helping her lover to kill his wife The Atlanta Constitution ran a story about her hanging in Georgia that covered slightly more than four full columns of text In an editorial sermon about her the Constitution said that Miss Eberhart not only committed murder but also committed adultery and violated the sanctity of marriage An 1890 article in the Elko Independent said of Elizabeth Potts who was hanged for murder To her we look for everything that is gentle and kind and tender and we can scarcely conceive her capable of committing the highest crime known to the law Indeed at the time this attitude was also applied to women in general By 1998 the press's and society's attitudes had changed dramatically A columnist from Texas wrote that convicted murderess Karla Faye Tucker should not be spared just because she was a woman The author went on to say that women could be just as violent and aggressive as men the idea that women are defenseless and need men's protection is probably the last vestige of institutionalized sexism that needs to be rubbed out

The Death Penalty Roger Hood, Carolyn Hoyle, 2015-01-08 The fifth edition of this highly praised study charts and explains the progress that continues to be made towards the goal of worldwide abolition of the death penalty The majority of nations have now abolished the death penalty and the number of executions has dropped in almost all countries where abolition has not yet taken place Emphasising the impact of international human rights principles and evidence of abuse the authors examine how this has fuelled challenges to the death penalty and they analyse and appraise the likely obstacles political and cultural to further abolition They discuss the cruel realities of the death penalty and the failure of international standards always to ensure fair trials and to avoid arbitrariness discrimination and conviction of the innocent all violations of the right to life They provide further evidence of the lack of a general deterrent effect shed new light on the influence and limits of public opinion and argue that substituting for the death penalty life imprisonment without parole raises many similar human rights concerns This edition provides a strong intellectual and evidential basis for regarding capital punishment as undeniably cruel inhuman and degrading Widely relied upon and fully updated to reflect the current state of affairs worldwide this is an invaluable resource for all those who study the death penalty and work towards its removal as an international goal
