Name: _____

Set during one of the worst atrocities in African history, this film (based on a true story) takes place amidst the attempted genocide of the Rwandan people in 1994 by the Hutu militia. Paul Rusesabagina was a hotel manager in Kigali who took in over 1,000 refugees at his elegant hotel to save their lives at great risk to himself and his family. This film finally brings this horrifying incident to light as it was barely a blip on the radar of the general public even though nearly 1 million Rwandans were killed.

Alternate assignment for those who did not watch the entire movie:

Rwandan Genocide Hotel Rwanda Question Answer:

The Rwandan Genocide on Film Matthew Edwards, 2018-07-11 The Rwandan genocide was one of the most shameful events of the 20th century. Many Westerners' understanding of it is based upon the Oscar winning film Hotel Rwanda and the critically acclaimed Shooting Dogs. Yet how accurately do these films depict events in Rwanda in 1994? Drawing on new scholarship, this collection of essays explores a variety of feature films and documentaries about the genocide to understand its expression in both Western and Rwandan cinema. Interviews with filmmakers are featured, including journalist Steve Bradshaw, BBC's Panorama director Nick Hughes, 100 Days director Lee Isaac Chung, Munyurangabo and Rwandan filmmakers Eric Kabera and Kivu Ruhorahoza.

Classic Questions and Contemporary Film Dean A. Kowalski, 2015-08-24 Featuring significant revisions and updates, Classic Questions and Contemporary Film: An Introduction to Philosophy, 2nd Edition, uses popular movies as a highly accessible framework for introducing key philosophical concepts. It explores 28 films, with 18 new to this edition, including Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, Hotel Rwanda, V for Vendetta, and Memento. It discusses numerous philosophical issues not covered in the first edition, including a new chapter covering issues of personal identity, the meaningfulness of life and death, and existentialism. It offers a rich pedagogical framework comprised of key classic readings, chapter learning outcomes, jargon-free argument analysis, critical thinking, and trivia questions, a glossary of terms, and textboxes with notes on the movies discussed. Revised to be even more accessible to beginning philosophers.

Inside the Hotel Rwanda Edouard Kayihura, Kerry Zukus, 2014-04-01 In 2004 the Academy Award-nominated movie Hotel Rwanda lionized hotel manager Paul Rusesabagina for single-handedly saving the lives of all who sought refuge in the Hotel des Milles Collines during Rwanda's genocide against the Tutsi in 1994. Because of the film, the real-life Rusesabagina has been compared to Oskar Schindler, but unbeknownst to the public, the hotel's refugees don't endorse Rusesabagina's version of the events. In the wake of Hotel Rwanda's international success, Rusesabagina is one of the most well-known Rwandans and now the smiling face of the very Hutu Power groups who drove the genocide. He is accused by the Rwandan prosecutor general of being a genocide negationist and funding the terrorist group Democratic Forces for the Liberation of Rwanda (FDLR). In Inside the Hotel Rwanda, survivor Edouard Kayihura tells his own personal story of what life was really like during those harrowing 100 days within the walls of that infamous hotel and offers the testimonies of others who survived there, from Hutu and Tutsi to UN peacekeepers. Kayihura tells of his life in a divided society and his journey to the place he believed would be safe from slaughter. Inside the Hotel Rwanda exposes Paul Rusesabagina as a profiteering, politically ambitious Hutu Power sympathizer who extorted money from those who sought refuge, threatening to send those who did not pay to the genocidaires despite pleas from the hotel's corporate ownership to stop. Inside the Hotel Rwanda is at once a memoir, a critical deconstruction of a heralded Hollywood movie alleged to be factual, and a political analysis aimed at exposing a falsely created hero using his fame to be a political force spouting the same ethnic apartheid.

Genocide in Contemporary Children's and Young Adult Literature Jane Gangi, 2014-03-14 This book studies children s and young adult literature of genocide since 1945 considering issues of representation and using postcolonial theory to provide both literary analysis and implications for educating the young Many of the authors visited accurately and authentically portray the genocide about which they write others perpetuate stereotypes or otherwise distort demean or oversimplify In this focus on young people s literature of specific genocides Gangi profiles and critiques works on the Cambodian genocide 1975 1979 the Iraqi Kurds 1988 the Maya of Guatemala 1981 1983 Bosnia Kosovo and Srebrenica 1990s Rwanda 1994 and Darfur 2003 present In addition to critical analysis each chapter also provides historical background based on the work of prominent genocide scholars To conduct research for the book Gangi traveled to Bosnia engaged in conversation with young people from Rwanda and spoke with scholars who had traveled to or lived in Guatemala and Cambodia This book analyses the ways contemporary children typically ages ten and up are engaged in the study of genocide and addresses the ways in which child survivors who have witnessed genocide are helped by literature that mirrors their experiences Darfur Allegory Rogaia Mustafa Abusaraf,2021-03-16 The Darfur conflict exploded in early 2003 when two rebel groups the Sudan Liberation Movement and the Justice and Equality Movement struck national military installations in Darfur to send a hard hitting message of resentment over the region s political and economic marginalization The conflict devastated the region s economy shredded its fragile social fabric and drove millions of people from their homes Darfur Allegory is a dispatch from the humanitarian crisis that explains the historical and ethnographic background to competing narratives that have informed international responses At the heart of the book is Sudanese anthropologist Rogaia Abusharaf s critique of the pseudoscientific notions of race and ethnicity that posit divisions between Arab northerners and African Darfuris Elaborated in colonial times and enshrined in policy afterwards such binary categories have been adopted by the media to explain the civil war in Darfur The narratives that circulate internationally are thus highly fraught and cover over to counterproductive effect forms of Darfurian activism that have emerged in the conflict s wake Darfur Allegory marries the analytical precision of a committed anthropologist with an insider s view of Sudanese politics at home and in the diaspora laying bare the power of words to heal or perpetuate civil conflict Holocaust Education E. Doyle Stevick,Deborah Michaels,2017-10-02 Holocaust Education Promise Practice Power and Potential provides timely studies of some of the most pressing issues in teaching and learning about the Holocaust around the world Europe is experiencing both anti Semitic attacks many by radicals claiming the banner of Islam and the resurgence of right wing movements that are openly hostile to minority rights particularly for marginalized and vulnerable groups like the Roma Sinti and Muslim refugees Can Holocaust education an encounter with the most extreme racial ideology to afflict the continent reduce violence and prejudice against Jewish and other minority groups The important studies in this volume address these and other pressing issues for the field including the progress of Central and Eastern European countries that experienced both Soviet hegemony and Nazi terror in grappling with the history of the Holocaust This book was originally published as a special issue of Intercultural Education Teaching Religion and Film Gregory J Watkins,2008-08-22 In a culture increasingly focused on visual media students have learned not only to embrace multimedia presentations in the classroom but to expect them Such expectations are perhaps more prevalent in a field as dynamic and cross disciplinary as religious studies but the practice nevertheless poses some difficult educational issues the use of movies in academic coursework has far outpaced the scholarship on teaching religion and film What does it mean to utilize film in religious studies and what are the best ways to do it In Teaching Religion and Film an interdisciplinary team of scholars think about the theoretical and pedagogical concerns involved with the intersection of film and religion in the classroom. They examine the use of film to teach specific religious traditions, religious theories and perspectives on fundamental human values. Some instructors already teach some version of a film and religion course and many have integrated film as an ancillary to achieving central course goals. This collection of essays helps them understand the field better and draws the sharp distinction between merely watching movies in the classroom and comprehending film in an informed and critical way.

Foreign Policy in Post-Genocide Rwanda Jonathan R. Beloff, 2020-07-29. This book examines how Rwandan elites within the government, private sector and civil society perceive the nation's political and economic relationship with the international community. Using testimonies and interviews of Rwandan political, military and economic leaders and bureaucrats, this book examines the intersubjective beliefs that formulate how Rwanda engages with the international community. The book presents and analyses three primary intersubjective themes: historical and possible future abandonment of Rwanda, implementing an ideology of agaciro to promote self-respect, dignity and self-reliance for state security and economic development, and the belief in the government's obligation to promote human security for those who identify as Rwandan. These perceptions help us understand how post-genocide Rwanda engages with the international community in the pursuit of state security, economic development and to prevent a future genocide. This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics and international relations as well as the politics of post-genocide states.

Representing Genocide Rebecca Jinks, 2016-06-02. This book explores the diverse ways in which Holocaust representations have influenced and structured how other genocides are understood and represented in the West. Rebecca Jinks focuses in particular on the canonical 20th century cases of genocide: Armenia, Cambodia, Bosnia and Rwanda. Using literature, film, photography and memorialisation, she demonstrates that we can only understand the Holocaust's status as a benchmark for other genocides if we look at the deeper structural resonances which subtly shape many representations of genocide. Representing Genocide pursues five thematic areas in turn: how genocides are recognised as such by western publics; the representation of the origins and perpetrators of genocide; how western witnesses represent genocide; representations of the aftermath of genocide; and western responses to genocide. Throughout the book, it distinguishes between mainstream and other more nuanced and engaged representations of genocide It shows how these mainstream representations the majority largely replicate the representational framework of the Holocaust including the way in which mainstream Holocaust representations resist recognising the rationality instrumentality and normality of genocide preferring instead to present it as an aberrant exceptional event in human society By contrast the more engaged representations often but not always originating from those who experienced genocide tend to revolve around precisely genocide's ordinariness and the structures and situations common to human society which contribute to and become involved in the violence

Film and Genocide Kristi M. Wilson, Tomás F. Crowder-Taraborrelli, 2012-01-04 Film and Genocide brings together scholars of film and of genocide to discuss film representations both fictional and documentary of the Holocaust the Armenian genocide and genocides in Chile Australia Rwanda and the United States Since 1955 when Alain Resnais created his experimental documentary Night and Fog about the Nazis mass killings of Jews and other ostracized groups filmmakers have struggled with using this medium to tell such difficult stories to re create the sociopolitical contexts of genocide and to urge awareness and action among viewers This volume looks at such issues as realism versus fiction the challenge of depicting atrocities in a manner palatable to spectators and film distributors the Holocaust film as a model for films about other genocides and the role of new technologies in disseminating films about genocide Film and Genocide also includes interviews with three film directors who discuss their experiences in working with deeply disturbing images and bringing hidden stories to life Irek Dobrowolski director of The Portraitist 2005 a documentary about Wilhelm Brasse an Auschwitz Birkenau prisoner ordered to take more than 40 000 photos at the camp Nick Hughes director of 100 Days 2005 a dramatic film about the Rwandan mass killings and Greg Barker director of Ghosts of Rwanda 2004 a television documentary for Frontline

New Vichy Syndrome Theodore Dalrymple, 2011 Theodore Dalrymple explains how European intelligentsia turned on Western civilization and paved the way for hedonism and Islamism to run roughshod over a once proud European culture. Western Europe is in a strangely neurotic condition of being smug and terrified at the same time. On the one hand, Europeans believe they have at last created an ideal social and political system in which man can live comfortably. In many ways, things have never been better on the old continent. On the other hand, there is growing anxiety that Europe is quickly falling behind in an aggressive globalized world. Europe is at the forefront of nothing; its demographics are rapidly transforming in unsettling ways, and the ancient threat of barbarian invasion has resurfaced in a fresh manifestation.

Political Evil Alan Wolfe, 2012-09-04 A timely eye-opening examination of political evil, a concept widely misunderstood and desperately in need of clarification in our ever more chaotic world. In an age of genocide, terrorism, ethnic cleansing, and torture, evil threatens us in ways radically different from tsunamis and financial panics. Nature unleashes its wrath, and people rush to help the victims. Evil shows its face, and we are paralyzed over how to respond. It was not always this way. During the twentieth century, thinkers as diverse as Hannah Arendt, Reinhold Niebuhr, Arthur Koestler, and George Orwell made evil central to everything they wrote. Acclaimed political scientist Alan Wolfe argues that in an age of partisan blame, assigning therapeutic excuse-making, and theological question-dodging, we need to get serious about the problem of evil once again. While there will always be something incomprehensible about evil, we are very much capable of understanding and combating it. The use of evil means to obtain political ends. Looking at examples of political evil around the globe—in the Middle East, Darfur, the Balkans, and at home in the West—Wolfe shows us how seemingly small distinctions can make an immense difference in international response. And he makes clear that much-needed change can be initiated with a shift in how we talk and think about political evil. At once impassioned and pragmatic, Political Evil sheds essential light on the creation of policy and on a concrete path to a more practicable and just future.

Teaching for Peace and Social Justice in Myanmar Mary Shepard Wong, 2022-06-02 Bringing together scholars and educators based in Myanmar, the USA, the UK, Denmark, and Thailand, this book presents new perspectives and research on the struggle for social justice and peace in Myanmar at this critical juncture. It shows how actors from diverse backgrounds and regions of Myanmar are drawing from their identities, evoking their agency, and using critical pedagogy to advance social justice and peace. The chapters provide the compelling life stories of the authors, specific examples of what they are doing, and insights of how their work might be applied to other contexts. The topics discussed include addressing structural violence, peace curriculum development, identity-based conflict teaching, the history of the country, promoting inclusion, civic education, critical pedagogy, teacher agency, and agendas of research funding for peacebuilding. The foreword and afterword, written by well-known scholars of Myanmar, address the relevance and importance of the book vis-à-vis the current social and political crisis following the February 2021 military coup.
