

The Sadler Committee Report (1832)¹

[In 1832, Michael Sadler undertook an official investigation of conditions in the textile factories of Great Britain. The evidence printed here is taken from the large body published in the committee's report. This report stands out as one of three great reports on the life of the industrial class. The immediate effect of the investigation and the report was the passage of the Act of 1833 limiting hours of employment for women and children.]

Evidence Given Before the Sadler Committee

Joshua Drake, called in; and Examined.

You say you would prefer moderate labour and lower wages; are you pretty comfortable upon your present wages?

—I have no wages, but two days a week at present; but when I am working at some jobs we can make a little, and at others we do very poorly.

When a child gets 3s. a week, does that go much towards its subsistence?

—No, it will not keep it as it should do.

...

Why do you allow your children to go to work at those places where they are ill-treated or over-worked?

—Necessity compels a man that has children to let them work.

Then you would not allow your children to go to those factories under the present system, if it was not from necessity?

—No.

...

Mr. Matthew Crabtree, called in; and Examined.
