Think-Writes Linda Shamoon,1986-01-01 Research Writing Across the Curriculum 6-9 Mary Peters,Ruth Fennick,Elaine Dion,2002 The focus of Research Writing Across the Curriculum is to teach middle years students the entire research process This certainly includes a review of current literature but also teaches students how to test their own hunch from this review of secondary sources Students learn how to conduct their own research using models across the curriculum Students will gain valuable skills for the kind of writing that they will need and use later in life Reference Guide to Writing Across the Curriculum Charles Bazerman,Joseph Little,2005-07-04 This reference guide traces the writing across the curriculum movement from its origins in British secondary education through its flourishing in American higher education and extension to American primary and secondary education

Exploring College Writing Dan Melzer,2011 Exploring College Writing Reading Writing and Researching across the Curriculum is a rhetoric for first year and sophomore composition courses that uses a constructivist ethnographic approach to introducing students to academic reading writing and researching This text will be especially useful to composition instructors who wish to provide students with both a general overview of academic discourse and an introduction to the purposes audiences and genres of writing across disciplines This textbook works from the premise that the best way to initiate students to academic discourse is to have them explore academic literacies using an ethnographic fieldwork approach to their own institution Students are cast in the role of researchers exploring their own experiences as college writers and investigating writing in General Education and in their prospective majors The book provides instructors and students sequences of engaging and exploratory Writing to Learn and Learn by Doing activities and formal extended writing projects that ask students to interview professors analyze writing assignments and reflect on their own reading writing and researching processes and histories These writing projects connect to students interests experiences and goals and provide them with a sense of purpose and audience for writing The organization of Exploring College Writing moves students from reflection to investigation Part I of the book provides a broad introduction to academic reading writing and researching and introduces students to the rhetorical situation genres and common college thinking and writing strategies Part I presents students with prompts that ask them to explore the similarities and differences between high school and college literacy and reflect on their own literacy histories Part II asks students to think critically about their reading writing and researching processes and to explore strategies for college reading writing and researching processes Part II includes prompts that ask students to explore college reading writing and researching processes and practice academic research and making academic arguments Part III introduces students to writing across the curriculum and the idea of disciplines and discourse communities Part III asks students to investigate the reading writing and researching assigned in the General Education and major courses at their campus and to consider discipline specific ways of writing and thinking Unlike other textbooks Exploring College Writing uses authentic student and professional texts from across disciplines in a variety of genres such as lab reports scholarly book reviews ethnographies and case studies to guide and inspire the writing process

Introducing Writing Across the Curriculum into China Dan Wu, 2012-09-19 Dr Wu Dan's Introducing Writing Across the Curriculum into China is an important and provocative research study that is broadly international in scope Of particular significance for education in China this book provides a historical analysis of writing instruction in China and an original application of activity theory used to analyze problems and possibilities for Writing Across the Curriculum WAC in higher education Through an examination of important aspects of WAC as it has developed in the United States Dr Wu Dan brings together various perspectives in support of developing and sustaining WAC programs in China and by analogy throughout the world Her work opens new avenues for research in writing and for the teaching of courses throughout the curriculum using a writing in the disciplines approach A major contribution to international WAC scholarship Introducing Writing Across the Curriculum into China will be invaluable to English faculty and to all readers interested in educational innovations in China

Writing Across Distances and Disciplines Joyce Magnotto Neff, Carl Whithaus, 2009-03-04 Writing Across Distances and Disciplines addresses questions that cross borders between onsite hybrid and distributed learning environments between higher education and the workplace and between distance education and composition pedagogy This groundbreaking volume raises critical issues clarifies key terms reviews history and theory analyzes current research reconsiders pedagogy explores specific applications of WAC and WID in distributed environments and considers what business and education might teach one another about writing and learning Exploring the intersection of writing across the curriculum composition studies and distance learning it provides an in depth look at issues of importance to students faculty and administrators regarding the technological future of writing and learning in higher
