Abstract

Journal Notes

6 months ago

Client reports urinary urgency seven to eight times per day. They state that when they are not able to make it to a bathroom in time, they experience a small amount of urine leakage.

Client educated on Kegel exercises and timed voiding.

Testimon:

Client reports urinary urgency now up to 10 times per day, including awakening one to two times at night to urinate. They report an increase in episodes of urinary incontinence. Client also reports that during the few past months, they have experienced an increase in hot flashes during the day, insomnia, and night sweats.

For each potential adverse reaction, click to specify if the client's statement indicates their understanding of the potential adverse reaction of the medication prescribed for hormone replacement therapy or the medication prescribed for urinary incontinence. There must be at least 1 selection in every row. There does not need to be a selection in every column.
