Serving Higher Purposes Ihron Rensburg,2020-11-05 Universities of the 21st century and beyond must be about teaching learning research excellence creativity and innovation as much as they must be about enabling the destiny of students communities and nations to realize their potential UJ succeeded in her vision and responsibilities to transform the divisions prejudices and limitations that often restrain the advancement of society The story of UJ s transition to an inclusive diverse dynamic bold and purposeful institution of learning demands to be read by everyone South African African and beyond It is a story of how to be an object rather than the subject of history while dynamically shaping our shared futures laying a solid foundation for future generations to be advocates and architects for social change and cohesion It is a story of courageous and visionary leadership The book offers our nation profound lessons in leadership that should enrich all our efforts to transform institutions in a sustainable way to play a meaningful role in building ONE NATION DR WENDY LUHABE

Economic Activist Social Entrepreneur First Chancellor of the University of Johannesburg Jesus, Paul and Matthew, Volume Two Andries Van Aarde,2020-04-16 This book is the second of two volumes which reflect on the trend in biblical scholarship that contrasts the vision of the historical Jesus with that of the apostle Paul on the one hand and the vision of Paul with that of the evangelist Matthew on the other It argues that Jesus replaced the concept of politics of holiness with that of politics of compassion This means that the church as a community of Jesus followers forms a fictive family replacing a soteriology grounded in the biological family God s adoption of people as God s children is based on the potential of people to absorb the divine into their humanity This truism is to be found in the visions shared by the peasant Jesus the apostle Paul and the rabbi Matthew as well as in creedal Christianity The book concludes with autobiographical reflective notes analogous to the parabolic story of the travellers to Emmaus from Jerusalem Luke 24 and that of the African eunuch Acts 8 on his way back from Jerusalem to Africa The notes serve to consolidate the two volumes on Jesus Paul and Matthew and their messages of God s wisdom justice and mercy

Trust, Courts and Social Rights David Vitale,2024-02-07 Trust Courts and Social Rights proposes an innovative legal framework for judicially enforcing social rights that is rooted in public trust in government or political trust Interdisciplinary in nature the book draws on theoretical and empirical scholarship on the concept of trust across disciplines including philosophy sociology psychology and political theory It integrates that scholarship with the relevant public law literature on social rights fiduciary political theory and judicial review In doing so the book uses trust as an analytical lens for social rights law importing ideas from the scholarship on trust into the social rights literature and develops a normative argument that contributes to the controversial debate on how courts should enforce social rights Also global in focus the book uses cases from courts in Africa Europe Latin America and North America to illustrate how the trust based framework operates in practice

Constitutional Triumphs, Constitutional Disappointments Rosalind Dixon, Theunis Roux, 2018-04-19 The 1996 South African Constitution was promulgated on 18th December 1996 and came into effect on 4th February 1997 Its aspirational provisions promised to transform South Africa's economy and society along non racial and egalitarian lines Following the twentieth anniversary of its enactment this book co edited by Rosalind Dixon and Theunis Roux examines the triumphs and disappointments of the Constitution It explains the arguments in favor of the Constitution being replaced with a more authentically African document untainted by the necessity to compromise with ruling interests predominant at the end of apartheid Others believe it remains a landmark attempt to create a society based on social economic and political rights for all citizens and that its true implementation has yet to be achieved This volume considers whether the problems South Africa now faces are of constitutional design or implementation and analyses the Constitution s external influence on constitutionalism in other parts of the world

Morning in South Africa John Campbell, 2016-05-12 This incisive deeply informed book introduces post apartheid South Africa to an international audience South Africa has a history of racism and white supremacy This crushing historical burden continues to resonate today Under President Jacob Zuma South Africa is treading water Nevertheless despite calls to undermine the 1994 political settlement characterized by human rights guarantees and the rule of law distinguished diplomat John Campbell argues that the country s future is bright and that its democratic institutions will weather its current lackluster governance The book opens with an overview to orient readers to South Africa s historical inheritance A look back at the presidential inaugurations of Nelson Mandela and Jacob Zuma and Mandela s funeral illustrates some of the ways South Africa has indeed changed since 1994 Reviewing current demographic trends Campbell highlights the persistent consequences of apartheid He goes on to consider education health and current political developments including land reform with an eye on how South Africa s democracy is responding to associated thorny challenges The book ends with an assessment of why prospects are currently poor for closer South African ties with the West Campbell concludes though that South Africa s democracy has been surprisingly adaptable and that despite intractable problems the black majority are no longer strangers in their own country

The Origin and Growth of Geography as a discipline at South Africa Universities Gustav Visser, Ronnie Donaldson, Cecil Seethal, 2016-09-20

Space and planning in secondary cities Lochner Marais, Verna Nel, 2019-09-01 Much of the urban research focuses on the large metropolitan areas in South Africa This book assesses spatial planning in the second tier cities of the country Secondary cities are vital as they perform essential regional and in some cases global economic roles and help to distribute the population of a country more evenly across its surface Apartheid planning left South African cities fragmented segregated and with low densities Post apartheid policies aim to reverse these realities by emphasising integration higher densities and upgrading Achieving these aims has been challenging and often the historical patterns continue The evidence shows that two opposing patterns prevail namely increased densities and continued urban sprawl This book presents ten case studies of spatial planning and spatial transformation in secondary cities of South Africa The book frames these case studies against complexity theory and suggests that the post apartheid response to apartheid planning represents a linear deviation from history The ten case studies then reveal how difficult it is for local decision makers to find appropriate responses and how current responses often result in contradictory results Often these cities are highly vulnerable and they find it difficult to plan in the context of uncertainty The book also highlights how these cities find it difficult to stand on their own against the influence of interest groups property developers mining companies traditional authorities other spheres of government The main reasons include weak municipal finance statements the dependence on national and provincial government for capital expenditure limited investment in infrastructure maintenance the lack of planning capacity the inability to implement plans and the unintended and sometimes contrary outcomes of post apartheid planning policies

Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison, 2019-08-15 South African agriculture is characterized by growing labour unrest evinced in recent years by high profile strikes but little is known about the sources and forms of day to day struggle In Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison examines how labour conflict is fuelled by changing management practices and how workers respond and resist across spatial sexual and spiritual domains Depicting in rich ethnographic detail daily life on a plantation Addison describes how agriculture has been restructured in the post apartheid era through a delegation of authority from white landowners to black intermediaries He explains that while this labour regime enables the profitability of plantations it gives rise to a fragile moral economy in which perceptions of what is tolerable and what is exploitation frequently clash In this environment transactional sex and Christian worship emerge as important terrains of gendered and spiritual contestation where women and low ranking workers remain resilient in the face of unequal power relations Meanwhile plantations project an appearance of benevolent paternalism particularly in the narratives and self identity of white landowners This book reveals how in the everyday life of the community both the plantation and the compound where the workers live serve as central grounds for the negotiation of labour relations A groundbreaking study that uncovers how migrant plantation workers challenge their exploitation Chiefs of the Plantation is a rare glimpse into the often hidden world of labour struggle on contemporary plantations
