the characters all have important traits that make up their identity beyond their names. For example, the protagonist, "Pip," has very simple, innocent traits. However, he grows into a manipulative, dishonest, and self-centered individual throughout the novel. Estephanie, Pip's mother, also shows growth throughout the novel. She starts as a kind, gentle woman who is very trusting and sentimental, but she ends up being a "Quarrelsome, impudent, hectoring, bad-tempered old woman." She is described as having "dark, watery eyes" and "a wrinkled nose." She is also described as being "old, thin, and bent over." Estephanie's character undergoes a transformation from a kind, gentle woman to a quarreling, impudent, hectoring, bad-tempered old woman. The other characters in the novel also undergo transformations. For example, Estephanie's son, Pip, starts off as a simple, innocent boy who wants to be a gentleman. He grows into a manipulative, dishonest, and self-centered young man who wants to be a gentleman. The other characters in the novel also undergo transformations.

He then accepted a BPA/USFS assignment, developing a manuscript for the Multnomah Salmon Recovery. In 1997, he published his first book, Log Cabin Stories, about the history of the home you may. The book was a family affair, and enabled Hansen to be the full-time, full-court press successful author we've come to know. ackett Bros. (2001), a memoir about his high school years with the BCOA, The author was an international speaker, and within a year of its release it had been selected as a Best October Book, returning Author of the Month.
