Access to History: Prosperity, Depression and the New Deal: The USA 1890-1954 4th Ed Peter

Clements, 2008-06-27 The Access to History series is the most popular and trusted series for AS and A level history students. This new edition provides accessible and complete coverage of the USA from 1890-1954, from the presidential situation in 1890 and the reasons for entering the First World War to the policies of the New Deal and the impacts of the Second World War. It charts the changing optimism of the time from the apparent economic stability of the 1920s, the devastation of the Depression to the optimism under Roosevelt's presidency. Throughout the book, key dates, terms and issues are highlighted, and historical interpretations of key debates are outlined. Summary diagrams are included to consolidate knowledge and understanding of the period, and exam-style questions and tips written by examiners for each specification provide the opportunity to develop exam skills.

Understanding The American Promise, Volume 2: From 1865 James L. Roark, Michael P. Johnson, Patricia Cline Cohen, Sarah Stage, Alan Lawson, Susan M. Hartmann, 2011-02-15 In response to the ever-changing challenges of teaching the survey course, Understanding the American Promise combines a newly abridged narrative with an innovative chapter architecture to focus students' attention on what's truly significant. Each chapter is fully designed to guide students' comprehension and foster their development of historical skills. Brief and affordable but still balanced in its coverage, this new textbook combines distinctive study aids, a bold new design, and lively art to give your students a clear pathway to what's important.

The Greater Good Laura Beth Daws, Susan Lorene Brinson, 2019-02-12 Examines the role of press coverage in promoting the mission of the TVA facilitating family relocation and formulating the historical legacy of the New Deal For poverty stricken families in the Tennessee River Valley during the Great Depression news of President Franklin D Roosevelt s New Deal plans to create the Tennessee Valley Authority bringing the promise of jobs soil conservation and electricity offered hope for a better life The TVA dams would flood a considerable amount of land on the riverbanks however forcing many families to relocate In exchange for this sacrifice for the greater good these families were promised fair market value for their land As the first geographic location to benefit from the electricity provided by TVA the people of North Alabama had much to gain but also much to lose In The Greater Good Media Family Removal and TVA Dam Construction in North Alabama Laura Beth Daws and Susan L Brinson describe the region s preexisting conditions analyze the effects of relocation and argue that local newspapers had a significant impact in promoting the TVA s agenda The authors contend that it was principally through newspapers that local residents learned about the TVA and the process and reasons for relocation Newspapers of the day encouraged regional cooperation by creating an overwhelmingly positive image of the TVA emphasizing its economic benefits and disregarding many of the details of removal Using mostly primary research the volume addresses two key questions What happened to relocated families after they sacrificed their homes lifestyles and communities in the name of progress And what role did mediated communication play in both the TVA s family relocation process and the greater movement for the public to accept the TVA s presence in their lives The Greater Good offers a unique window into the larger impact of the New Deal in the South Until now most research on the TVA was focused on organizational development rather than on families with little attention paid to the role of the media in garnering acceptance of a government enforced relocation
