

New Historicism and Cultural Criticism Essay Example

Most of us raised to think about history in the traditional way would read an account of a Revolutionary War battle written by an American historian in 1944. The questions asked by traditional historians and by new historicists are quite different, and that's because these two approaches to history are based on very different views of what history is and how we can know it. For most traditional historians, history is a series of events that have a linear, causal relationship: event A caused event B, event B caused event C, and so on.

Furthermore, they believe we are perfectly capable, through objective analysis, of uncovering the facts about historical events, and those facts can sometimes reveal the spirit of the age, that is, the world view held by the culture to which those facts refer. Indeed, some of the most popular traditional historical accounts have offered a key concept that would explain the worldview of a given historical population, such as the Renaissance notion of the Great Chain of Being which has been used to argue that the guiding spirit of Elizabethan culture was a belief in the importance of order in all domains of human life.

You can see this aspect of the traditional approach in history classes that study past events in terms of the spirit of an age, such as the Age of Reason or the Age of Enlightenment, and you can see it in literature classes that study literary works in terms of historical periods, such as the neoclassical, romantic, or modernist periods. Finally, traditional historians generally believe that history is progressive, that the human species is improving over the course of time, advancing in its moral, cultural, and technological accomplishments.

New historicists, in contrast, don't believe we have clear access to any but the most basic facts of history. But our understanding of what such facts mean, of how they fit within the complex web of competing ideologies and conflicting social, political, and cultural agendas of the time and place in which they occurred is, for new historicists, strictly a matter of interpretation, not fact. Even when traditional historians believe they are sticking to the facts, the way they contextualize those facts (including which facts are deemed important enough to report and which are left out) determines what story those facts will tell.

From this perspective, there is no such thing as a presentation of facts; there is only interpretation. Furthermore, new historicists argue that reliable interpretations are, for a number of reasons, difficult to produce. The first and most important reason for this difficulty, new historicists believe, is the impossibility of objective analysis. Like all human beings, historians live in a particular time and place, and their views of both current and past events are influenced in innumerable conscious and unconscious ways by their own experience within their own culture.

Historical Criticism and the Challenge of Theory Janet Levarie Smarr, 1993

A Practical Reader in Contemporary Literary Theory Peter Brooker, Peter Widdowson, 2014-05-22 This introduction to practicing literary theory is a reader consisting of extracts from critical analyses largely by 20th century Anglo American literary critics set around major literary texts that undergraduate students are known to be familiar with It is specifically targeted to present literary criticism through practical examples of essays by literary theorists themselves on texts both within and outside the literary canon Four example essays are included for each author text presented History Out of Joint Sande Cohen,2006 Publisher Description Homoeroticism and Chivalry R. Zeikowitz,2016-04-30 Zeikowitz explores both affirming and denigrating discourses of male same sex desire in diverse fourteenth century chivalric texts and describes the sociopolitical forces motivating those discourses He attempts to dethrone traditional heteronormative views by drawing attention to culturally normative queer desire Zeikowitz articulates possible homoeroticized spectatorial interactions between male readers and imagined or actual model knights dramatized accounts of same sex unions and mutually stimulating or competing forces of homosocial and heterosexual desire in chivalric texts such as Charny s Book of Chivalry Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Troilus and Criseyde He also examines how intimate male bonds are rendered sodomitically inflected dangerous attachments in chronicle narratives of the reigns of Edward II and Richard II Romantic Adaptations Cian Duffy,Peter Howell,2016-04-08 How did romanticism define its relationship with its sources How has romanticism since been understood and misunderstood across a range of cultural activities These are among the questions taken up in this reexamination of the place of adaptation within romanticism Renegotiating the cultural topography of the period and the place of romanticism in subsequent cultural history the volume focuses on the adaptation of source material by romantic writers and the adaptation in subsequent periods of the tropes and ideologies associated with romanticism In place of a hierarchical distinction between source and text between romanticism and its contexts the collection identifies distinct but overlapping and mutually constitutive genres such as the Gothic and romance Whether their essays deal with early nineteenth century periodical reviews affordable editions of Pride and Prejudice aimed at the late nineteenth century mass audience or the ongoing cultural presence of romanticism in late twentieth and early twenty first century debates about embryology and stem cell research the contributors remain cognizant of the tension between the processes of adaptation and the apparent ideology of romantic originality The Lord's Supper in the Reformed Tradition John W. Riggs,2015-08-24 In the Reformed tradition the Lord s Supper is a sacrament that draws on a rich and deep tradition in its theology and practice In this new volume in the Columbia Series in Reformed Theology John Riggs provides a comprehensive overview of the most important Reformed theologians and confessions on the sacrament of the Lord s Supper Riggs identifies the theology of true mystical union with Christ in the Supper as both a theological legacy the Reformed tradition inherited and a theological achievement that it refined Ideal for studies in Reformed and liturgical theology this is an important resource for investigating the eucharistic theology of the Reformed tradition The Creation of History in Ancient Israel Marc Zvi Brettler,2002-11 Argues that the biblical historians were influenced by typology interpretation of earlier texts satire and ideology shows how with this model we can put together a history of ancient Israel using the Hebrew Bible as a key source Historical Criticism and the Meaning of Texts J. R. de J. Jackson,2016-08-19 In this original and significant contribution to literary controversy first published in 1989 Professor Jackson argues on semantic grounds that historical criticism which he defines as the attempt to read works of literature and criticism as they were read when they were new is a necessary preliminary to other ways of approaching the literature of the past He distinguishes between the difficulties inherent in the practice of historical critics and the problems encountered by historians Historical criticism as he describes it is an ideal that has yet to be attained and he explores strategies for coming closer to it This title will be of interest to students of literature

Critical Pasts Philip Smallwood,2004 This volume assembles new thinking on the theory practice and cultural value of the history of literary criticism Focusing on a theme that has attracted relatively little developed theoretical commentary hitherto the authors of these essays draw on specialist areas of critical history and different kinds of problems to illustrate the paradoxes that attend any attempt to write the history of critical writing dimension of restoration criticism the relations between poetry and criticism and a test case in eighteenth century criticism s reception aesthetics Other essays consider relations between eighteenth century critical and literary history between romanticism and New Historicism and the various ways in which present and past criticism is interrelated In an introduction to the volume the editor calls for a clearer confrontation with the representational issues of critical history by those who write about the critical past

The Bible in Theory Stephen D. Moore,2010 The sixteen essays assembled in this volume four of them co authored chart the successive phases of a professional life lived in the interstices of Bible and theory Engaging such texts as the Song of Songs 4 Maccabees Mark Luke Acts John and Romans and such themes as the quest for the historical Jesus the essays simultaneously traverse postmodernism deconstruction New Historicism autobiographical criticism cultural studies postcolonial studies masculinity studies queer theory and posttheory Individual essay introductions and periodic annotated bibliographies make the volume an advanced introduction to biblical literary criticism From publisher s description

Fantastic Modernity Orrin N. C. Wang,2000 Focusing on the convergence of Romantic studies and literary theory over the past twenty five years Orrin N C Wang pairs a series of contemporary critics with originary Romantic writers in order to illuminate the work of both the contemporary theorist and earlier Romantic Wang examines Paul de Man s deconstructive use of Percy Bysshe Shelley Jerome McGann s Marxist inflected appropriation of Heinrich Heine contemporary feminist interpretations of Mary Wollstonecraft and Harold Bloom s pragmatic reading of Ralph Waldo Emerson Through these examinations along with commentary on Keats Jameson Lovejoy and Spitzer Fantastic Modernity attempts a series of new readings of both the theory being used by the various critics and the primary Romantic texts under consideration
