Introduction to Psychology James W. Kalat, 2007 Throughout this text the author has tried to model the habit of critical thinking or evaluating the evidence particularly in the What's the Evidence features which describe research studies in some detail He points out the limitations of the evidence and the possibilities for alternative interpretations The goal is to help students ask their own questions distinguish between good and weak evidence and ultimately appreciate the excitement of psychological inquiry Pref to the instructor No Hero, But a Man Annie Thomas, 1894 Memories in Lace Sophia

Emmanouilidou, 2025-09-03 A non linear narrative composed at the junctures of creative nonfiction or fictionalized testimonial writing this book offers a cluster of memories collected and crocheted by Xenia A third generation Greek American Xenia visits the island of Zakynthos in the Ionian Sea Greece with the intention of completing a studious field focused research into the lives of elderly Greek women some expatriates some repatriates some never having left the island The interconnected stories comprise reminiscences of immigration historical personal crises and intergenerational resilience Drawing from the principles of the Public Humanities the book records individual experiences which gradually transmute into choral storytelling across time space and generic quality The book mobilizes a mental transition from the perspective of the exceptional and celebrated individual woman to the voices of ordinary women whose tales of self appreciation allow for a leap into a shared gendered experience Faith in Freedom Thomas Szasz, 2011-12-31 The libertarian philosophy of freedom is characterized by two fundamental beliefs the right to be left alone and the duty to leave others alone Psychiatric practice routinely violates both of these beliefs It is based on the notion that self ownership exemplified by suicide is a not an inherent right but a privilege subject to the review of psychiatrists as representatives of society In Faith in Freedom Thomas Szasz raises fundamental questions about psychiatric practices that inhibit an individual's right to freedom His questions are fundamental Is suicide an exercise of rightful self ownership or a manifestation of mental disorder Does involuntary confinement under psychiatric auspices constitute unjust imprisonment or is it therapeutically justified hospitalization Should forced psychiatric drugging be interpreted as assault and battery on the person or is it medical treatment The ethical standards of psychiatric practice mandate that psychiatrists employ coercion Forgoing such intervention is considered a dereliction of the psychiatrists duty to protect How should friends of freedom especially libertarians deal with the conflict between elementary libertarian principles and prevailing psychiatric practices In Faith in Freedom Thomas Szasz addresses this question more directly and more profoundly than in any of his previous works
