Change in Office Working Hours

To: Recipient Name

From: Your Name

CC: CC Name

Please be advised that we are writing this letter to inform about the change in office hours. Due to the pressing winters and the poor travel conditions, we have taken the decision to reduce the office hours to seven every day. These change in hours will be in action from the start of next week and will remain the same till winters.

We would also like to add that these change in hours will not have any impact on the wages as these hours are just temporary. The supervisors have been informed about the change in hours. Any relevant concerns can be communicated to the supervisors.

With thanks

Letter Writing and Language Change

Anita Auer, Daniel Schreier, Richard J. Watts, 2015-07-16 Letter Writing and Language Change outlines the historical sociolinguistic value of letter analysis both in theory and practice The chapters in this volume make use of insights from all three Waves of Variation Studies and many of them either implicitly or explicitly look at specific aspects of the language of the letter writers in an effort to discover how those writers position themselves and how they attempt consciously or unconsciously to construct social identities The letters are largely from people in the lower strata of social structure either to addressees of the same social status or of a higher status In this sense the question of the use of standard and or nonstandard varieties of English is in the forefront of the contributors interest Ultimately the studies challenge the assumption that there is only one legitimate and homogenous form of English or of any other language
