Bill is not able to consistently follow simple one-step directions, such as "give me." He also does not demonstrate an understanding of age appropriate behaviors. For example, he is not able to share and has

Billy has general overall low muscle tone, which is impacting his ability to support himself in a seated position and maintain head control. He needs assistance to achieve his communication goals. He is unable to hold his head up.

Based on the F.E.C.P. Department, 2017 is demonstrating a greater than 20% effect in the school-environment areas. The above includes information by comparing school-environment transition rates. The above information is not intended to be used as a basis for any other comparison.

Strengths and Resources

- Billy's parents both have college degrees and have worked in computer programming positions. Billy's mother is a recent college graduate and is working part-time hours. But she wants the best for Billy and for the family. As a result, the family is experiencing some financial stress.
- Billy's mother is a single mother who watches him while his parents work, either in the office or from home.
- Because the family lives in a major city, there are many resources available in the neighborhood and in the city.
- The family has a small home with little space for movement activities.

- Billy's low mood some doesn't seem to be improving as he gets older.
- Several times a day, Billy cries and fusses because his family doesn't understand what he wants or needs.

Strategies and Activities

- Billy's mother will name every piece of clothing each day while she dresses him.

The first section lists your child's name, date of birth and other basic details. It also includes your family's contact information. The date of the IFSP meeting may be noted, too.

The service coordinator is the person responsible for making sure the IFSP is carried out. Other members of the IFSP team may be listed here also or at the end of the plan.

This describes your child's current abilities and skills. These can include:

- ### Family Resources, Concerns and Priorities

This is a statement of your family's strengths and challenges. You'll help create it. Any concerns you have about your child and the priorities for his progress will also be noted here.

This important section lays out the goals ("outcomes") for your child, based about the next and how you how they'll be met and how your child's progress will be measured. These goals can also help the IFSP team decide if services should be added or changed.

This describes the early intervention services your child and family will get. The plan should specify where the services will be provided, how often they'll be provided, and how the services will last.

Services in an IFSP should be provided at home, in day care or in other "natural environments" for your child. If a service is provided in a facility, the age would not typically be this section will explain why.

Some services that your child and family need may not be paid for by early intervention. But they're listed here to give you a complete picture. Potential sources of funding are also noted.

Your consent is required before early intervention services can be provided. Some IFSPs have a signature line.
