Journal Entry 2

Over the recent reading of homework, it covered on how to set up a paper. Some know how to collect information and then continue writing about it, making sure everything looks nice and neat, when the information itself is either jumbled up and out of order, or it's lacking on what needs to be included. Writing a paper requires information about you want to write about. What some are clueless about, is how to properly format the paper, especially specifically for college classes.

A standard paper or essay, whatever is being written, typically the basic is five paragraphs. An introduction paragraph to explain what is going to be discussed, three body paragraphs discussing different main points, and then the conclusion to summarize what was written. Another standard format is just like a five paragraph paper, is the seven paragraph paper. It has the same introduction and conclusion paragraphs, but instead of having three body paragraphs, it has five. A small paper can include three paragraphs; an introduction, a body, and then a conclusion paragraph.

Typically, a small quantity of papers will tend to use those when learning how to write an entire paper. Moving onto the next unit, one must learn how to use MLA or APA format. Those are the two most common formats when it comes to typing up a paper. Once figuring out how to correctly type out said paper and use the correct format, a topic for the paper must be selected.
