Reconnecting Aestheticism and Modernism Bénédicte Coste, Catherine Delyfer, Christine Reynier, 2016-10-04 Charting the period that extends from the 1860s to the 1940s this volume offers fresh perspectives on Aestheticism and Modernism By acknowledging that both movements had a passion for the new it goes beyond the alleged divide between Modernism and its predecessors Rather than reading the modernist credo Make it New as a desire to break away from the past the authors of this book suggest reading it as a continuation and a reappropriation of the spirit of the New that characterizes Aestheticism Basing their arguments on recent reassessments of Aestheticism and Modernism and their articulation contributors take up the challenge of interrogating the connections continuities and intersections between the two movements thus revealing the working processes of cultural and aesthetic change so as to reassess the value of the new for each Attending to well known writers such as Waugh Woolf Richardson Eliot Pound Ford Symons Wilde and Hopkins as well as to hitherto neglected figures such as Lucas Malet L S Gibbon Leonard Woolf or George Egerton they revise assumptions about Aestheticism and Modernism and their very definitions This collection brings together international scholars specializing in Aestheticism or Modernism who push their analyses beyond their strict period of expertise and take both movements into account through exciting approaches that borrow from aesthetics philosophy or economics The volume proposes a corrective to the traditional narratives of the history of Aestheticism and Modernism revitalizing definitions of these movements and revealing new directions in aestheticist and modernist studies

Reconnection Betty Jean Craige, 2010-11-01 An openly polemical work Reconnection seeks a way of returning the humanities to their place at the center of human life For the past three hundred years to study the humanities has implied an isolation from politics science and society Literary studies in particular have often fallen prey to this isolation by viewing novels plays and poems as impassive verbal icons as texts to be explicated without reference to political context or social significance Seeking a way of ending this self imposed exile of the humanities from the turmoil of social issues and concerns Betty Jean Craige looks to the contextual nondisciplinary thought that began to take hold in academia during the 1960s a development that echoed the rising political awareness brought to the universities by the Vietnam War the civil rights movement and women s liberation Recently this emergent openness in the university has come under attack by conservative critics who have sought to roll back the movement for nontraditional inquiry in academia and to reassert the dominance of hierarchical canonical thought By tracing the ideological history of literary studies Craige shows that this reactionary goal of reimposing canonical thought is in time doomed to failure the age of the discipline is over In its place Craige calls for the creation of a holistic system of learning that will emphasize interdisciplinary and nondisciplinary research reconnecting literary studies with history and philosophy with science and politics restoring literature itself to a central place in our intellectual discourse and social debate

Reconnecting Language Anne-Marie Simon-Vandenberg,Kristin Davidse,Dirk Noël,1997-10-31 Although the contributors to this book do not belong to one particular school of linguistic theory they all share an interest in the external functions of language in society and in the relationship between these functions and internal linguistic phenomena In this sense they all take a functional approach to grammatical issues Apart from this common starting point the contributions share the aim of demonstrating the non autonomous nature of morphology and syntax and the inadequacy of linguistic models which deal with syntax morphology and lexicon in separate independent components The recurrent theme throughout the book is the inseparability of lexis and morphosyntax of structure and function of grammar and society The third and more specific common thread is case which in some contributions is adduced to illustrate the more general point of the link between word form on the one hand and clausal and textual relations on the other hand while in other papers it is at the centre of the discussion The interest of the proposed volume consists in the fact that it brings together the views of leading scholars in functional linguistics of various denominations on the place of morphosyntax in linguistic theory The book provides convincing argumentation against a modular theory with autonomous levels the dominant framework in mainstream 20th century linguistics and is a plea for further research into the connections between the lexicogrammar and the linguistic and extralinguistic context

Coviability of Social and Ecological Systems: Reconnecting Mankind to the Biosphere in an Era of Global Change Olivier Barrière,Mohamed Behnassi,Gilbert David,Vincent Douzal,Mireille Fargette,Thérèse Libourel,Maud Loireau,Laurence Pascal,Catherine Prost,Voyner Ravena-Cañete,Frédérique Seyler,Serge Morand,2019-03-12

This book considers the principle of sustainable development which is currently facing a growing environmental crisis. A new mode of thinking and positioning the ecological imperative is the major input of this volume. The prism of co viability is not the economics of political agencies that carry the ideology of the dominant conventional economic schools but rather an opening of innovation perspectives through science. This volume through its four parts more than 40 chapters and a hundred authors gives birth to a paradigm which crystallizes within a concept that will support in overcoming the ecological emergency deadlock.

Beyond Europe - Reconnecting Eurasia Rafał Wisniewski, Tadeusz Wallas, Andrzej Stelmach, 2019-11-20. Beyond Europe Reconnecting Eurasia provides a timely and nuanced account of the great powers policies towards Eurasia. It explores the role of Central Asia and the trends that are shaping the politics of the Eurasian megaregion. With the emphasis on the theme of reconnection this volume highlights the challenges of global and regional cooperation and excels in interpreting both the current realities of Eurasia and the driving forces behind them. The volume provides a broad and critical analysis of Eurasia's emergence as a viable geopolitical and geoeconomic powerhouse and discusses the megaregion's standing in foreign and security policies of both global as well as regional powers. Prof Marek Rewizorski, University of Gdansk.

Point of reconnection Marcello Cotrim, 2023-03-22. There is no way to control life and any attempt can generate unnecessary suffering. The ideal is to accept the changes and comprehend which lesson life is presenting to you. In 2020 the world changed abruptly and a feeling of solitude and impotence took over most of us. However in every difficulty there is an opportunity to evolve and review our choices. At that time Marcello Cotrim came up with the Project Point of Reconnection and through daily internet LIVES helped thousands of people showing them a happier and lighter way amid life adversity. The world shut down and with that a lot of questions were put in place by everyone about their life's especially the question Am I happy with my life. Marcello Cotrim proposed life lessons and the most essential ones are here in this book and they reflect gratitude for this project created.

Magnetic Reconnection Walter Gonzalez, Eugene Parker, 2016-02-22. This book provides an overview of recent research highlights in the main areas of application of magnetic reconnection MR including planetary solar and magnetospheric physics and astrophysics. It describes how research on magnetic reconnection especially concerning the Earth's magnetosphere has grown extensively due to dedicated observations from major satellite missions such as Cluster Double Star and Themis. The accumulated observations from these missions are being supplemented by many theoretical and modelling efforts for which large scale computer facilities are successfully being used and the theoretical advances are also covered in detail. Opening with an introductory discussion of some fundamental issues related to magnetic reconnection subsequent chapters address topics including collisionless magnetic reconnection MHD structures in 3D reconnection energy conversion processes fast reconnection mediated by plasmoids rapid reconnection and magnetic field topology. Further chapters consider specific areas of application such as magnetospheric dayside and tail reconnection.

comparative reconnection in planetary systems and reconnection in astrophysical systems The book offers insight into discussions about fundamental concepts and key aspects of MR access to the full set of applications of MR as presently known in space physics and in astrophysics and an introduction to a new related area of study dealing with the annihilation of quantum magnetic fluxes and its implications in the study on neutron star activity The book is aimed primarily at students entering the field but will also serve as a useful reference text for established scientists and senior researchers

Reconnecting to the Earth Aaron Hoopes,2019-06-12 In this book I intend to take you on a journey of self discovery It is not always an easy path but we have reached a point where action is required if we as a species are going to continue to live on this planet I have no intention of talking about what s going to happen if you don t follow these practices or rehash the same old fear porn about how everyone s going to die if the whole world doesn t rally together There is plenty of that out there already The direction this book takes is toward something much more positive This journey will take some discipline and integrity There may be some difficulty and struggle along the way However as you reconnect with the Earth you will feel the changes taking place within you and that can change the world This book is separated into four sections The first chapter is basically a wake up call discussing the difficulties we are facing It is a realistic assessment of our current situation and a vital first step on the path to reconnecting with the Earth The second chapter provides a deeper understanding as to how we got into this predicament and the underlying framework of our society that has led us to this point The third chapter is about changing the narrative we live in so that we can begin to shift our physical mental and spiritual beings toward a sustainable relationship with the Earth The final chapter provides seven sets of seven fundamental guidelines for creating your own personal practice for reconnecting with nature the Earth and yourself If you are just beginning to become aware that there is something fundamentally wrong with what is happening to the planet I recommend starting from the beginning to get the full picture It may not be what you want to hear but it is important to understand where we are starting from If you have picked up this book because you are already aware of the huge problems we face as a society and civilization I would recommend skimming the first two chapters and heading for the second half of the book While the discussion of how bad things are cannot be left out the exercises and practices for dealing with it are much more important to the process of reconnecting ourselves to the Earth
