Muhlenfeld, 1992-09-01 In her admirable biography of Mary Chesnut Elisabeth Muhlenfeld has American literature as well as American history in her debt C Vann Woodward Mary Boykin Miller Chesnut 1823 1886 is known today for her excellent firsthand account of life in the Confederate States of America A Diary from Dixie republished in 1981 as Mary Chesnut s Civil War is far more than a simple diary however for Mrs Chesnut s drawing room was a social center for many of the most prominent political and military figures in the Confederacy Elisabeth Muhlenfeld s expert biography utilizes Mrs Chesnut s autobiographical writings her papers and those of her family as well as published sources It traces her life in South Carolina from her childhood as the daughter of a governor and United States senator through her schooling and her marriage to James Chesnut Jr the son of a wealthy South Carolina planter During the war her husband served as an aide to P G T Beauregard and to Jefferson Davis achieving the rank of general Muhlenfeld emphasizes Mary Chesnut s last twenty years when she helped her family through the intricacies of repaying immense debts incurred during the Civil War rebuilding wrecked homes and reestablishing some measure of order and security These were also the years of her serious writing She experimented with fiction writing three novels and translating others from the French and in 1881 she began the last revisions of her Civil War journal In the descriptive passages characterizations thematic patterns and overall structure of the revised journal Chesnut employed the techniques she had learned by writing fiction Besides adding to our knowledge of this unusual nineteenth century southern woman Mary Boykin Chesnut A Biography enhances our knowledge of the history of women in general as it delineates the transformation of a wartime diary into the chronicle that remains a major document in southern history South Carolina Women Marjorie Julian Spruill, Valinda W. Littlefield, Joan Marie Johnson, 2009-05-01

Volume Two The biographical essays in this volume provide new insights into the various ways that South Carolina women asserted themselves in their state and illuminate the tension between tradition and change that defined the South from the Civil War through the Progressive Era As old rules including gender conventions that severely constrained southern women were dramatically bent if not broken these women carved out new roles for themselves and others The volume begins with a profile of Laura Towne and Ellen Murray who founded the Penn School on St Helena Island for former slaves Subsequent essays look at such women as the five Rollin sisters members of a prominent black family who became passionate advocates for women's rights during Reconstruction writer Josephine Pinckney who helped preserve African American spirituals and explored conflicts between the New and Old South in her essays and novels and Dr Matilda Evans the first African American woman licensed to practice medicine in the state Intractable racial attitudes often caused women to follow separate but parallel paths as with Louisa B Poppenheim and Marion B Wilkinson Poppenheim who was white and Wilkinson who was black were both driving forces in the women's club movement Both saw clubs as a way not only to help women and children but also to showcase these positive changes to the wider nation Yet the two women worked separately as did the white and black state federations of women's clubs Often mixing deference with daring these women helped shape their society through such avenues as education religion politics community organizing history the arts science and medicine Women in the mid and late twentieth century would build on their accomplishments The People's Home Recipe Book Alice Gitchell Kirk, 1920
