An article about methods that use Luhmann's system theory to characterize cities as systems that are composed of flows. An article that demonstrates how the Sen-Nussbaum Capabilities Approach can be used in urban systems to measure household well-being shifts that occur in response to the resettlement of urban households. A final article that illustrates how Adaptive Cycles of Complex Adaptive Systems as well as innovation can be applied to gain a better understanding of cities and to promote more resilient and more sustainable urban futures.

Born to Choose John H Falk, 2017-09-05. Born to Choose is John H Falk's compelling account of why and how we make the endless set of choices we do every second of every day of our lives. Synthesizing research from across the biological and social sciences, Falk argues that human choice making is an evolutionarily ancient and complex process. He suggests that all our choices are influenced by very basic and early evolving needs and that ultimately each choice is designed to support survival in the guise of perceived well-being. This engaging book breaks new intellectual ground and enhances our understanding not just of human choice making but human behavior overall.

The Science of Parenting Margot Sunderland, 2016-07-05. Backed by the most up-to-date scientific research, The Science of Parenting 2nd Edition provides evidence-based parenting advice about how you should care for your child with practical strategies from birth to 12 years of age. Child psychotherapist Dr Margot Sunderland has more than 30 years' experience that she brings to this internationally acclaimed guide, and she provides numerous case studies to relate the science to real life. From separations and time apart to forms of discipline to the latest thinking on screen time, this guide traces the direct effect of different parenting practices on your child's brain. Summaries at the end of every chapter provide key takeaways and make action points simple and clear so you can begin to implement them immediately. As a professional who works with families, Dr Sunderland is attuned to the struggle of parents juggling lives at work and at home. This second edition of The Science of Parenting provides newly added invaluable advice on making the most of your time with your child so that you can forge a strong bond and have a positive relationship. The Science of Parenting remains the greatest work on what science can teach us about parenting and the remarkable effects of love, nurture and play on a child's development.

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11. The GCC is a major player in the post-2011 reordering of the Middle East. Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states, especially Kuwait, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity, surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region. This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states. The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process: the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices. Both developments, along with dramatic demographic change, have compelled state and citizens to re-evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together. Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
