There were very few land burials in Moon Beach. It was considered old-fashioned, unhealthy, and something that only happened to the poor. Instead the dead were buried in ocean cemeteries twelve miles out. A special festival was held every year in their honour. Children loved it. They were given white chocolate bones, marzipan skulls, and ice cream coffins on a stick. There were costume parties too. You had to wear something blue because that was the colour people went when they were buried under the sea. You could paint your hands and face if you liked or even dye your hair. That's what people did in Moon Beach. Turned blue once a year. And then they turned blue forever. Scientific American, 1910 The New Key to Costa Rica Beatrice Blake, Anne Becher, 2004-11-22 A
