Neuropsychological Assessment in the Age of Evidence-Based Practice Stephen C. Bowden,2017-01-26 Evidence based practice has become the benchmark for quality in healthcare and builds on rules of evidence that have been developed in psychology and other health care disciplines over many decades This volume aims to provide clinical neuropsychologists with a practical and approachable reference for skills in evidence based practice to improve the scientific status of patient care The core skills involve techniques in critical appraisal of published diagnostic validity or treatment studies Critical appraisal skills assist any clinician to evaluate the scientific status of any published study to identify the patient relevance of studies with good scientific status and to calculate individual patient probability estimates of diagnosis or treatment outcome to guide practice Initial chapters in this volume review fundamental concepts of construct validity relevant to the assessment of psychopathology and cognitive abilities in neuropsychological populations These chapters also summarize exciting contemporary development in the theories of personality and psychopathology and cognitive ability showing a convergence of theoretical and clinical research to guide clinical practice Conceptual skills in interpreting construct validity of neuropsychological tests are described in detail in this volume In addition a non mathematical description of the concepts of test score reliability and the neglected topic of interval estimation for individual assessment is provided As an extension of the concepts of reliability reliable change indexes are reviewed and the implication of impact on evidence based practice of test scores reliability and reliable change are described to guide clinicians in their interpretation of test results on single or repeated assessments Written by some of the foremost experts in the field of clinical neuropsychology and with practical and concrete examples throughout this volume shows how evidence based practice is enhanced by reference to good theory strong construct validity and better test score reliability The Concept of Defense Mechanisms in Contemporary Psychology Uwe Hentschel,Gudmund J.W. Smith,Wolfram Ehlers,Juris G. Draguns,2012-12-06 What is the scientific status and the truth value of the concept of defense mechanisms Among contemporary psychologists three types of answers to this question may be expected Some would wholeheartedly endorse the theoretical clinical and research value of this notion others would reject it outright Between these two extremes a large number of observers perhaps the majority would suspend their judgment Their attitude compounded of hope and doubt would capitalize on defense as an interesting and promising concept At the same time these psychologists would express skepticism and disappointment over its clinical limitations theoretical ambiguity and research failures The present volume is primarily addressed to the audience of hopeful skeptics those who have not given up on the notion of defense yet have been frustrated by the difficulties of incorporating it into the modern streamlined structure of psychology To this end we have brought together theoretical and empirical contributions germane to defense together with reports about their applications to clinical and personality assessment especially in relation to psychopathology psychosomatics and psychotherapeutic intervention

Nature, Nurture, and the Transition to Early Adolescence

Stephen A. Petrill, Robert Plomin, John C. DeFries, John K. Hewitt, 2003-03-27 Some of the most intriguing issues in the study of cognitive social emotional and physical development arise in the debate over nature versus nurture a debate difficult to resolve because it is difficult to separate the respective contributions of genes and environment to development The most powerful approach to this separation is through longitudinal adoption studies The Colorado Adoption Project CAP is the only longitudinal adoption study in existence examining development continuously from birth to adolescence which makes it a unique powerful and tremendously valuable resource CAP is an ongoing assessment of 245 adopted children and 245 biological control children assessed from birth to early adolescence This book is the fourth in a series describing CAP results This latest volume edited by four eminent researchers in developmental psychology builds on the large body of research already generated by investigating the role of genes and environments on early adolescent development Because it is the only volume on the most comprehensive investigation of the effect of genes and environments on early adolescent development this work will be invaluable to researchers in developmental cognitive and social psychology
