Background

Social media have been indispensable communication channels for sharing and consuming news. The evolution of social media platforms has boosted digital journalism practice globally.

Objective

This study intends to examine factors influencing social media engagement to practice citizen journalism by adopting a prominent technology adoption model unified theory of acceptance and use of technology (UTAUT).

Methods

The researchers designed online survey questionnaires and distributed them among university students through Google Forms to collect data, where 301 valid samples were collected. The structural equation modelling (SEM- PLS) approach was utilized to ascertain the presented model based on the empirical data found from respondents.

Findings

The findings show performance expectancy, effort expectancy, and social influence significantly affect social media users' practice of citizen journalism. The results indicate that social media engagement significantly influenced citizen journalism practice.

Significance

This study is of great significance to scholars and practitioners, especially digital journalists, and content creator emphasized limitations and suggestions for future research.

SMEs possess their expertise with authority yet often find themselves navigating the intricate landscape of teaching writing in a virtual environment without a compass. The challenge is clear: many SMEs lack a foundational understanding of the pedagogy and andragogy crucial for delivering effective feedback in online courses. In the fast-paced realm of compressed online courses, the need for actionable feedback that propels the teaching and learning cycle forward is paramount. Providing Writing Feedback in Online Teaching and Learning: The PAUSE Framework emerges as the guiding light, offering a transformative framework that bridges the gap between subject matter expertise and effective teaching of writing in online environments. With a seamless integration of the PAUSE principles—Praise for positivity, Applicable for immediate action, Understandable for clarity, Specific for targeted improvement, and Encouraging for motivation—this book goes beyond the theoretical. It equips academic scholars with tangible examples demonstrating how the PAUSE framework has been successfully implemented to enhance feedback in online education. Empower yourself with the tools to revolutionize your approach, redefine your impact, and create a digital classroom where subject matter expertise meets effective pedagogy. Providing Writing Feedback in Online Teaching and Learning: The PAUSE Framework is your key to fostering a generation of online learners who persist, thrive, and excel.

The Academic Writer Lisa Ede, 2007-12-27. Much has changed since the first edition of Lisa Ede's Work in Progress; students need more rigorous help working with sources, creating effective arguments, and addressing the greater demands of academic writing in a digital age. Refocused on the kinds of academic writing students do now, The Academic Writer is a radical revision of Work in Progress. Written in Lisa Ede's accessible, supportive style, The Academic Writer gives students easy-to-use guidelines to make effective choices at each stage of the writing process.

Conducting Undergraduate Research in Education Ruth J. Palmer, Deborah L. Thompson, 2022-02-17. This book offers a student-focused guide to conducting undergraduate research in education and education-related programs, engaging students in the process of learning through research and supporting them to navigate their multidimensional academic programs. Written for undergraduate students in teacher education programs, the book features a range of leading voices in the field who offer a step-by-step guide to all elements of the research process, from conducting a literature review and choosing a research topic to collecting data and building a research community with peers and mentors. Ultimately, volume editors Ruth J. Palmer and Deborah L. Thompson help model the competencies that students need to succeed, including complex thinking, strategic design, modeling, and persistent iterative practice, while demonstrating how conducting research can help students develop as deep thinkers, courageous researchers, and active participants in their communities of practice. Offering strategic approaches, support, and guidance, this book demonstrates the wider importance of undergraduate research in informing educational practice and policy, as well as understanding schools beyond the classroom context, encouraging active engagement and continued learning progression.
