- Reverse the diode and test again.

If the diode still displays a low voltage (green), the diode is defective. Replace the diode with a new one. Do not use crimp connections.

Alternator

The alternator provides alternating current through a single output lead and a ground. The alternator contains two diodes. The first diode converts the AC current to 5 Amps for lights. The second diode converts the AC current to 5 Amps positive (+) for charging and external loads, such as a battery.
