Gustafsson,L.

Hertzberg,2013-04-17 How is linguistic theory related to linguistic practice What do theoretical notions and models tell us about real life language use Are there any limits to what such notions and models can reasonably be taken to accomplish These questions are fundamental to any serious investigation into the phenomena of human communication The essays in this book show that philosophers and linguists of quite different brands have tended to give undue priority to their own favourite theoretical framework and have presupposed that the descriptive scheme invoked by that framework constitutes a pattern to which any linguistic practice somehow has to conform What unites the contributors to this volume is a critical attitude towards such essentialist aspirations By investigating several concrete examples of this tendency examples collected from such seemingly disparate areas as structuralism contemporary analytic philosophy and feminist epistemology the authors collectively manage to cast doubt on the very attempt to fit the whole of linguistic practice into a general theoretical mould

Language, Literacy, and Technology Richard Kern,2015-05-28 From the origins of writing to today s computer mediated communication material technologies shape how we read and write how we construe and share knowledge and ultimately how we understand ourselves in relation to the world However communication technologies are themselves designed in particular social and cultural contexts and their use is adapted in creative ways by individuals In this book Richard Kern explores how technology matters to language and the ways in which we use it Kern reveals how material social and individual resources interact in the design of textual meaning and how that interaction plays out across contexts of communication different situations of technological mediation and different moments in time Showing how people have adapted visual forms to various media as well as to social needs this study culminates in five fundamental principles to guide language and literacy education in a period of rapid technological and social change Scottish Newspapers, Language
