The alchemy for real personal transformation lies in digging up your own medicine and tools. Your ancestors' struggles, strength, and resilience are your greatest guides.

Anyone scrolling through Robyn Moreno's social media and seeing her with her adorable kids and taking the stage at empowerment conferences would have thought she had it all together. But the truth behind her well-curated pics was that Robyn was burnt out in the midst of a full-on midlife meltdown caused by that all-too-familiar working mom tightrope walk coupled with painful family drama. To save her soul, sanity, and family, Robyn quit her manic mommyboss existence and set out on a 260-day spiritual journey based on an ancient Mexican Aztec calendar, studying the medicine of her Mexican grandmothers' curanderismo. She learned about sustos, soul losses, and her true essence. She reconnected with family she hadn't spoken to in ages and learned fantastical stories about her great grandmother, Mama Natalia, who was a curandera.

She took cooking lessons with a tough but tender hearted Mexican chef and found community and joy in hiking She had dramatic moments with her sisters her mom her husband and herself And finally she went into the jungle of Belize and found healing in the most unexpected way Reckoning with the hidden stories and aspects of her family and her Mexican American culture that were transforming and heartbreaking brought Robyn to an unshakable understanding of who she is and how she fits into this world And by looking to her past to decide which traditions which medicines to pass on to her daughters and which to leave behind she began to root into the person she was meant to be
