Reflections Of A Culture Broker A View From The Smithsonian:

REFLECTIONS OF CUL BROKER PB KURIN RICHARD,1997-11-17 Is culture brokered like stocks real estate or marriage In this engaging book Richard Kurin shows that cultures are always mediated and indeed brokered by countries organizations communities and individuals all with their own vision of the truth and varying abilities to impose it on others Arguing that cultural exhibits reflect a series of decisions about representing someone someplace and something Reflections of a Culture Broker discusses the ethical and technical problems faced by not only those who practice in a museum setting but also anyone charged with representing culture in a public forum Reflections of a Culture Broker Richard Kurin,1997-11-17 Is culture brokered like stocks real estate or marriage In this engaging book Richard Kurin shows that cultures are also mediated and indeed brokered by countries organizations communities and individuals all with their own vision of the truth and varying abilities to impose it on others Drawing on his diverse experiences in producing exhibitions and public programs Kurin challenges culture brokers defined broadly to include museum professionals film makers journalists festival producers and scholars of many disciplines to reveal more clearly the nature of their interpretations to envision the ways in which their messages can play to different audiences and to better understand the relationship between knowledge art politics and entertainment The book documents a variety of cases in which the Smithsonian has brokered culture for the American public a planned exhibit on Jerusalem had to balance both Israeli and Palestinian agendas debates over the 1996 Olympic Arts Festival presented differing visions of the American South and the National Air and Space Museum s controversial display of the Enola Gay prompted the Smithsonian to re examine the role of national museums Arguing that cultural exhibits reflect a series of decisions about representing someone someplace and something Reflections of a Culture Broker discusses the ethical and technical problems faced by not only those who practice in a museum setting but also anyone charged with representing culture in a public forum Commodities and Globalization Angelique Haugerud,Margaret Priscilla Stone,Peter D. Little,2000 Today s growing fascination with flows of people commodities technology capital images and ideas across national and other boundaries poses fresh theoretical and methodological challenges to anthropology Commodities offer a particularly useful window on globalization because they unlike electronically conveyed capital transport cultural messages These ideological or symbolic transfers are of particular interest to economic anthropology This collection considers how conceptions and roles of commodities may change in response to widening spheres of economic interaction and exchange The essays in this volume are ordered under two themes Those included in the first section Commodities in a Globalizing Marketplace address historically and culturally defined variations in meanings and practices associated with commodities in globalizing markets In Part Two The Circulation and Revaluation of Commodities contributors analyze how commodity producers experiences are informed by colonial and post colonial history state directives in the marketplace and locations in dependent or marginalized regions The chapters all focus on the production process as it responds to is distorted by and increasingly is controlled by the determination of the value of those commodities outside a locality The Enola Gay and the Smithsonian Institution Charles T. O'Reilly, William A.

Rooney, 2015-01-24 On August 6 1945 the B 29 Enola Gay dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima Japan which ushered on the end of World War II For the 50th anniversary of this major event in world history the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institution produced an exhibit A controversy erupted however over the exhibit's historical authenticity

Veterans for example complained that the museum displayed a misrepresented version of history After concisely covering the background of the Enola Gay and its mission this study focuses on the controversy surrounding the museum exhibit Issues covered include casualty figures ethical questions and political correctness among others The viewpoints of such groups as museum personnel exhibit organizers veterans and historians are covered Appendices offer information on content analysis of the National Air and Space Museum exhibit script non museum materials that were intended to complement the exhibit script and the importance of full disclosure in research A Companion to Folklore Regina F. Bendix, Galit

Hasan-Rokem, 2014-08-25 A Companion to Folklore contains an original and comprehensive set of essays from international experts in the field of folklore studies This state of the art collection uniquely displays the vitality of folklore research across the globe The Companion covers four main areas the first section engages with the practices and theoretical approaches developed to understand the phenomena of folklore the second discusses the distinctive shapes that folklore studies have taken in different locations in time and space the third examines the interaction of folklore with various media as well as folklore's commoditization In the final section on practice essays offer insights into how folklorists work what they do and ways in which they have institutionalized their field Throughout contributors investigate the interplay of folklore and folkloristics in both academic and political arenas they evaluate key issues in the folk life of communities from around the world including China post communist Russia post colonial India South America Israel and Japan The result is a unique reflection and understanding of the profoundly different research histories and current perspectives on international research in the field Legacies Steven Lubar, Kathleen M. Kendrick, 2014-06-03 The Smithsonian Institution has been

America's museum since 1846 What do its vast collections from the ruby slippers to a piece of Plymouth Rock first ladies gowns to patchwork quilts a Model T Ford to a customized Ford LTD low rider tell Americans about themselves In this lavishly illustrated guide to the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History Steven Lubar and Kathleen M Kendrick tell the stories behind more than 250 of the museum's treasures many of them never before photographed for publication These stories not only reveal what America as a nation has decided to save and why but also speak to changing visions of national identity As the authors demonstrate views of history change over time methods of historical investigation evolve and improve and America's understanding of the past matures Shifts in focus and attitude lie at the hearth of Legacies which is organized around four concepts of what a national museum of history can be a treasure house a shrine to the famous a palace of progress and a mirror of the nation Thus the museum collects cherished or precious objects houses celebrity memorabilia documents technological advances and reflects visitors own lives Taking examples from science and technology politics decorative arts military history ethnic heritage popular culture and everyday life the authors provide historical context for the work of the Smithsonian and shed new light on what is important and who is included in American history Throughout its history Lubar and Kendrick conclude the museum has played a vital role in both shaping and reflecting America s sense of itself as a nation

Alternative Paths to Influence Giulio M. Gallarotti, 2023-06-06 This book offers new and cutting edge analyses of under explored subjects and issues in the realm of soft power It attempts to fill significant scholarly gaps in understanding the process by which soft power is created as well as gaps in demonstrating its impact Soft power is one of the most influential ideas in the study of international politics over the past thirty years Can nations attain their most vital foreign policy objectives in agreeable ways Advocates of the concept of soft power have vociferously answered in the affirmative After many years of thinking in the field of international affairs that the only effective path to influence in international politics was military and economic power the idea of soft power offers new and exciting possibilities of gaining such influence through a more benign path one that elevates cooperation and esteem as preferred alternatives to violence threat and military capacity This book posits that the realization of the full potential of soft power as a foundation for international relations is a crucial goal for our present world one beset by war and planetary crises The book will be of special interest to researchers across political science international relations cultural studies and foreign policy It was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Political Power

Writing the Hamat'sa Aaron Glass, 2021-07-15 Long known as the Cannibal Dance the Hamat sa is among the most important hereditary prerogatives of the Kwakwaka'wakw of British Columbia In the late nineteenth century as anthropologists arrived to document the practice colonial agents were pursuing its eradication and Kwakwaka'wakw were adapting it to endure In the process the dance with dramatic choreography magnificent bird masks and an aura of cannibalism entered a vast library of ethnographic texts Writing the Hamat sa offers a critical survey of attempts to record describe and interpret the dance over four centuries Going beyond postcolonial critiques of representation that often ignore Indigenous agency in the ethnographic encounter Writing the Hamat sa focuses on forms of textual mediation and Indigenous response that helped transform the ceremony from a set of specific performances into a generalized cultural icon This meticulous work illuminates how Indigenous people contribute to contest and repurpose texts in the process of fashioning modern identities under settler colonialism
