Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States

Transformative Experiences in College Neal Christopherson, 2020-11-24 Transformative Experiences in College Connections and Community explores the intersection of two concepts transformative experience in college and the communities in which students learn Emerging from a five year longitudinal interview study tracking a panel of 75 students through four years at a selective liberal arts college this book provides a rich depiction of how aspects of the college community and the relationships developed within that community create opportunities for transformative experiences that lead to personal and academic growth Neal Christopherson argues that transformative experiences in college are primarily the results of interactions with other people and with a broader campus community documenting the ways in which relationships with faculty experiences in courses interaction with peers and the general institutional environment can generate these experiences Christopherson also touches on extracurricular and co curricular activities the importance of a healthy environment for interacting with difference and how students transition out of the institution Scholars of education sociology and communication will find this book particularly useful The Study Skills Handbook Stella

Cottrell,2024-06-13 This is the ultimate guide to study skills written by million copy bestselling author Stella Cottrell Her tried and tested approach based on over 20 years experience of working with students has helped over a million students to achieve their potential When it comes to studying there is no one size fits all approach This engaging and accessible guide shows students how to tailor their learning to their individual needs in order to boost their grades build their confidence and increase their employability Fully revised for the sixth edition it contains everything students need to succeed This is an invaluable resource for undergraduate students of all disciplines and is also ideal for postgraduates mature students and international students It prepares students for what to expect before during and after their studies at university New content in this edition helps students make the most of online learning with a new self evaluation page and more on working collaboratively online This edition includes support tailored for students on hybrid asynchronous or distance learning courses as well as more material on building study stamina and improving concentration The Cambridge Introduction to

Hope Richard C. Raymond,2013-05-01 This nine chapter book narrates a writing centered approach to the teaching of literature and literary research As the title suggests the book also embraces a thematic approach to reading and writing about twentieth century American literature focusing on the grounds for hope in an age of despair The first five chapters explore in detail the teaching of the twentieth century American literature course at the University of Pristina in Kosovo where the author served as Fulbright Professor of American Literature in the spring semester of 2012 Throughout these chapters narrate students in class interactions to illustrate writing to learn strategies for teaching the literature Chapter six then follows the same cohort of 22 students as they learned to ground their literary research in their own questions about American and Balkans narratives of oppression and liberty of despair and hope The last three chapters document the responses of students and their professors to this American theme of liberty and hope as seen through the Balkans lenses of ethnic violence and emerging republican government Specifically chapter seven focuses on students participation in a blog featuring Balkans literature that explores the same issues of liberty and justice examined in the American literature they have read Chapter eight then celebrates student writing the fruit of the writing to learn strategies narrated in earlier chapters Finally chapter nine narrates professors and students responses gathered through surveys and interviewing to questions about their country s violent past and the value of literary study in preparing citizens to shape a new republic

Revisiting EFL Assessment Rahma Al-Mahrooqi,Christine Coombe,Faisal Al-Maamari,Vijay Thakur,2017-01-10 This book examines acknowledged practices and demonstrates to teachers how to make the most out of their assessment practices It also explores different assessment methods for skills such as reading writing listening and speaking Forecasting the future of assessment and where concepts like alternative assessment and dynamic assessment are heading it also shows how relatively new teaching methods such as communicative methodologies and problem based learning are reflected in assessment This book represents a forum where contributors have presented their research and innovative ideas and practices on the important topic of assessment and opened a fresh debate on it It offers an excellent reference guide for EFL teachers practitioners researchers and testing and assessment specialists Each chapter examines central issues in assessment and their connection with teaching and learning in EFL contexts
