Education ,1989 Logistics Systems: Design and Optimization Andre Langevin, Diane Riopel, 2005-12-06 In a context of global competition the optimization of logistics systems is inescapable Logistics Systems Design and Optimization falls within this perspective and presents twelve chapters that well illustrate the variety and the complexity of logistics activities Each chapter is written by recognized researchers who have been commissioned to survey a specific topic or emerging area of logistics The first chapter by Riopel Langevin and Campbell develops a framework for the entire book It classifies logistics decisions and highlights the relevant linkages to logistics decisions The intricacy of these linkages demonstrates how thoroughly the decisions are interrelated and underscores the complexity of managing logistics activities Each of the chapters focus on quantitative methods for the design and optimization of logistics systems Flow Shop Scheduling

Hamilton Emmons, George Vairaktarakis, 2012-09-14 Although several monographs and edited volumes have discussed scheduling in general most of these works survey the field by contributing a single chapter to production systems like flow shops Flow Shop Scheduling Theoretical Results Algorithms and Applications is solely dedicated to bringing together a huge body of knowledge on the subject along distinct design features in order to help scholars and practitioners easily identify problems of interest This monograph has been organized into ten distinct flow shop systems and explores their connections The chapters cover flow shop systems including two machine flexible stochastic and more Outside of the traditional flow shops that require a job never revisits any stage this book also examines the reentrant flow shop in which a job may cycle back and be reprocessed at the same station or sequence of stations multiple times The authors have made the material accessible to a broad readership using simplified notation and revealing unifying concepts The results unique to flow shop research should provide the seed for research in other areas of scheduling and in optimization in general Signal ,2009
