ICEL2015-10th International Conference on e-Learning Dr Carlton Watson, 2015-06-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 10th International Conference on e Learning ICEL 2015 which is being hosted this year by the College of the Bahamas Nassau on the 25-26 June 2015 ICEL is a recognised event on the International research conferences calendar and provides a valuable platform for individuals to present their research findings, display their work in progress and discuss conceptual advances in the area of e Learning. It provides an important opportunity for researchers and managers to come together with peers to share their experiences of using the varied and expanding range of e Learning available to them. With an initial submission of 91 abstracts after the double-blind peer review process, there are 41 academic Research papers and 2 PhD papers. Research papers published in these Conference Proceedings. These papers come from some many different countries including Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Portugal, Republic of Macedonia, Romania, Slovakia, South Africa, Sweden, United Arab Emirates, UK and the USA. A selection of the best papers, those agreed by a panel of reviewers and the editor, will be published in a conference edition of EJEL, the Electronic Journal of e Learning www.ejel.com. These will be chosen for their quality of writing and relevance to the Journal's objective of publishing papers that offer new insights or practical help into the application of e Learning.

Tools, Techniques, and Strategies for Teaching in a Real-World Context With Microbiology Davida Smyth, Nichole A. Broderick, Laura Bowater, Carlos C. Goller, 2021-12-02

Student Work and Teacher Practices in Science Christine Y. O'Sullivan, Andrew R. Weiss, 1999. In 1996 the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) assessed the knowledge and skills of students in the areas of earth science, life science and physical science. It also collected information related to the background of students (grades 4, 8 and 12), their teachers (grades 4 and 8) and the schools they attended (grades 4, 8 and 12). This report is intended primarily for science teachers; hence the results presented relate directly to student performance, classroom practices and school climate. This report also discusses students' attitudes and beliefs about science. The report is divided into four parts. In the first part, chapter 1, an overview of the assessment is provided. This includes information about the framework used in the development of the assessment, a description of how the assessment was administered to students and an explanation of how to interpret NAEP results. In the second part, chapters 2, 3 and 4, examples of questions and student responses are presented. These chapters are divided by grade. The third part, chapters 5 and 6, contains information collected from students, teachers and school administrators about classroom practices, student motivation and parental involvement in learning. Finally, the fourth part contains appendices offering a fuller description of the procedures used for the NAEP 1996 science assessment: appendix A, scoring guides for questions discussed in chapters 2, 3 and 4; appendix B, and standard errors for the statistics presented in the report; appendix

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
