Reel History Alex von Tunzelmann, 2015-10-01 Reel History is a hoot Alex von Tunzelmann writes with a blend of playful wit and delicious snark Greg Jenner From ancient Egypt to the Tudors to the Nazis the film industry has often defined how we think of the past But how much of what you see on the screen is true And does it really matter if filmmakers just make it all up Picking her way through Hollywood's version of events acclaimed historian Alex von Tunzelmann sorts the fact from the fiction Along the way we meet all our favourite historical characters on screen and in real life from Cleopatra to Elizabeth I from Spartacus to Abraham Lincoln and from Attila the Hun to Nelson Mandela Based on the long running column in the Guardian Reel History takes a comic look at the history of the world as told through the movies the good the bad and the very ugly

The Fighting Sullivans Bruce Kuklick, 2016-11-07 In November of 1942 the five Sullivan brothers from Waterloo Iowa were killed when a Japanese torpedo sank their ship during the most ferocious naval engagement fought in the South Pacific The family's loss the most extraordinary for the United States in its military history was immortalized and valorized in the 1944 film The Fighting Sullivans This book tells the story of how calamity with the help of Hollywood and the wartime publicity machine transformed a family of marginal and disreputable young men intensely disliked in their hometown into heroes The Sullivan boys joined the armed forces after Pearl Harbor and the US Navy accepted that they would all serve on one ship the light cruiser USS Juneau The five brothers gave the navy great publicity but when the ship went down and survivors were not rescued the service faced a serious problem The Fighting Sullivans examines the campaign that followed as the navy and its partners in Hollywood turned a tragedy of errors into a public relations victory Bruce Kuklick shows how the myth of the Sullivan family was created using bits and pieces of real events but with twists that turned the boys into superhumans and their beleaguered parents into self sacrificing patriots He explores the close relationship between Hollywood studios and the military which aimed to boost morale and support for the war A study in mythmaking The Fighting Sullivans offers a behind the scenes look at the manufacture of heroes in twentieth century wartime America

Davis,2011-03-04 People have been experimenting with different ways to write history for 2 500 years yet we have experimented with film in the same way for only a century Noted professor and historian Natalie Zemon Davis consultant for the film The Return of Martin Guerre argues that movies can do much more than recreate exciting events and the external look of the past in costumes and sets Film can show millions of viewers the sentiments experiences and practices of a group a period and a place it can suggest the hidden processes and conflicts of political and family life And film has the potential to show the past accurately wedding the concerns of the historian and the filmmaker To explore the achievements and flaws of historical films in differing traditions Davis uses two themes slavery and women in political power She shows how slave resistance and the memory of slavery are represented through such films as Stanley Kubrick s Spartacus Steven Spielberg s Amistad and Jonathan Demme s Beloved Then she considers the portrayal of queens from John Ford s Mary of Scotland and Shekhar Kapur s Elizabeth to John Madden s Mrs Brown and compares them with the cinematic treatments of Eva Peron and Golda Meir This visionary book encourages readers to consider history films both appreciatively and critically while calling historians and filmmakers to a new collaboration
