

A Reflection:

My successes are not only mine. They are the reflection of all the people who work hard to achieve a goal, a dream, a hope. They are the reflection of all the people who work hard to strive.

My mistakes are not just my mistakes. They are the reflection of the nature and the imperfections of the human being. What people think, say or feel about me is also a reflection. A reflection of what they carry inside, a reflection of their feelings and their thoughts.

The way I treat every single person, is also a reflection. A reflection of how each person treats me.

Life is a reflection. If we give hate or love that is what will be reflected in our lives.

Sometimes we don't see things as they are, we see things the way we think they are, we see a Reflection.

Reflections For A Staff Meeting:

Developmental Science and Psychoanalysis Peter Fonagy, Linda Mayes, Mary Target, 2018-03-26 As a discipline psychoanalysis began at the interface of mind and brain and has always been about those most basic questions of biology and psychology loving hating what brings us together as lovers parents and friends and what pulls us apart in conflict and hatred These are the enduring mysteries of life and especially of early development how young children learn the language of the social world with its intertwined biological genetic and experiential roots and how infants translate thousands of intimate moments with their parents into a genuine intuitive emotional connection to other persons Basic developmental neuroscience and psychology has also of late turned to these basic questions of affiliation of how it is that as humans our most basic concerns are about finding establishing preserving and mourning our relationships These areas in broad strokes are the substance of mind and brain and the last decade has brought much new science to the biology of attachment love and aggression

Multiple Family Therapy Eia Asen, Neil Dawson, Brenda McHugh, 2018-05-08 If a troubled family contains the resources to solve its own problems then why not bring such families together to share their experiences and support each other This is the approach of the Marlborough Family Service the institution at the forefront of development for child protection cases school based interventions and family therapy for ethnic minority communities for over twenty years In this book three long standing staff members describe for the first time their innovative work with a range of family problems from marital violence and child abuse to educational problems and eating disorders      A Learning Community of Reflective Teachers Neeraja Raghavan, 2024-02-06 Teachers possess a wealth of untapped wisdom and valuable experience Be it educational policy curriculum development or textbook selection rare are the instances when teachers views are solicited Traditionally teacher development has been driven by administrators of schools and it often takes the form of a mentor teaching the staff of a school But what happens when teachers across different locations collaborate and learn together This volume documents such an initiative sparked off by the Covid 19 pandemic which brought people together online It showcases the power of teachers debating discussing and learning from each other Based on an Indian experience this book addresses a range of issues that teachers and educators across the world face encompassing pedagogy classroom management school culture and teacher development A unique story of community building and teacher education this book also contains key outcomes and insights while taking us through their action research projects It showcases a model of teacher development that can be adopted by interested readers anywhere in the world Above all it brings out the crying need for a teacher s voice to be heard for far too long teachers have been mere implementers of decisions taken by policymakers or managements of schools By means of networking communities such as the one described in this book the transformation of teachers going from whispers to resonance is greatly amplified An important intervention in the domain of teacher development this volume will be of great interest to students researchers educators teacher educators and sociologists of education It will also be useful for teacher trainees academicians policymakers schoolteachers curriculum developers teacher training institutes and universities offering teacher education programmes      Closing the Opportunity Gap Vijay Pendakur, 2023-07-03 This book offers a novel and proven approach to the retention and success of underrepresented students It advocates a strategic approach through which an institution sets clear goals and metrics and integrates the identity support work of cultural diversity centers with skill building through cohort activities enabling students to successfully navigate college graduate on time and transition to the world of work Underlying the process is an intersectional and identity conscious rather than identity centered framework that addresses the complexity of students assets and needs as they encounter the unfamiliar terrain of college In the current landscape of higher education colleges and universities normally divide their efforts between departments and programs that explicitly work on developing students identities and separate departments or programs that work on retaining and graduating higher risk students This book contends that the gap between cultural diversity centers and institutional retention efforts is both a missed opportunity and one that perpetuates the opportunity gap between students of color and low income students and their peers Identity consciousness the central framework of this book differs from an identity centric approach where the identity itself is the focus of the intervention For example a Latino men s program can be developed as an identity centered initiative if the outcomes of the program are all tied to a deeper or more complex understanding of one s Latino ness and or masculinity Alternately this same program can be an identity conscious student success program if it is designed from the ground up with the students racial and gender identities in mind but the intended outcomes are tied to student success such as term to term credit completion yearly persistence engagement in high impact practices or timely graduation Following the introductory chapter focused on framing how we understand risk and success in the academy the remaining chapters present programmatic interventions that have been tested and found effective for students of color working class college students and first generation students Each chapter opens with a student story to frame the problem outlines the key research that informs the program and offers sufficient descriptive information for staff or faculty considering implementing a similar identity conscious intervention on their campus The chapters conclude with a discussion of assessment and suggested Action Items as starting points
