

That my days have been a dream;
Yet if hope has flown away
In a night, or in a day,
In a vision, or in none,
Is it therefore the less gone?
All that we see or seem
Is but a dream within a dream.

I stand amid the roar
Of a surf-tormented shore,
And I hold within my hand
Grains of the golden sand—
How few! yet how they creep
Through my fingers to the deep,
While I weep—while I weep!
O God! can I not grasp
Them with a tighter clasp?
O God! can I not save
One from the pitiless wave?
Is all that we see or seem
But a dream within a dream?

Rethinking Refugees Peter Nyers,2013-11-15 Rethinking Refugees Beyond State of Emergency examines the ways in which refugees have been made objects of the complex discourse practices and strategies of humanitarianism making visible the link between our knowledge of refugees and questions about the changing status of political power space and identity The author draws upon post structural analytical tools to develop a critique of humanitarianism and to sketch a bio political framework for understanding the relationship between the humanity of refugees and their capacity or lack thereof for political voice and action Rethinking Refugees is a radically fresh approach to understanding refugees their movements and their place within an increasingly globalized international politics Amplifying Youth Voices through Critical Literacy and Positive Youth Development Crystal Chen Lee,Jose Picart,Jennifer C. Mann,2024-07-17 This book explores the transformative power of critical literacy in fostering youth engagement through university community partnerships It is based on a six year study by The Literacy and Community Initiative LCI at North Carolina State University This book examines the potential possibilities and challenges of using critical literacy in university community partnerships to amplify youth voices Through the LCI program youth in four community based organizations completed a critical literacy curriculum published their writings in a book and participated in public readings to engage and lead their communities The authors draw on data from semi structured individual interviews focus groups youth narratives and socio emotional surveys across four unique youth populations The youth populations involved collaborations with youth of color in urban communities Latine immigrant and second generation youth girls in foster care and high risk situations and youth from immigrant and refugee backgrounds Results of the study suggest that after engaging in the LCI critical literacy program youth demonstrated improved literacy skills enhanced social emotional well being and increased community leadership and self advocacy Presenting a novel theoretical framework for the effective use of critical literacy to promote positive youth development in conjunction with first hand insights into the successful development and sustainment of university community research partnerships this book ultimately provides a unique insight into how critical literacy and successful university community partnerships can combine to result in powerful support for underserved culturally and linguistically diverse youth This book will appeal to scholars educators and practitioners with interests in critical literacy positive youth development studies and adolescent research

Refugees, Refuge, and Human Displacement Ignacio López-Calvo, Marjorie Agosin, 2022-11-01 Every American is a descendant of either a Native American and enslaved person an immigrant or a refugee This book is devoted to the fourth category The essays in this volume will study the concept of refuge as well as historical forced displacement and statelessness trying to provide potential lasting solutions to the many problems associated with this situation This volume is not only timely but expansive as it moves from the pressing crisis of refugees to the crisis of humanity that seeks to find refuge From refugees to asylum seekers from climate change to war from historical uprootedness and displacement to today's crisis of refugeeism these topics are mobilizing humanities scholars to think about refugees with a new sense of urgency This book demonstrates how interdisciplinary cultural approaches grounded in the humanities can transform refugee conversations so often dominated by political science economics and other disciplines In doing so the collection sets up far more inclusive refugee discussions and urges humanities thinkers to respond by taking the lead in the face of environmental and sociopolitical uncertainties

Poetry as Testimony Antony Rowland, 2014-03-26 This book analyzes Holocaust poetry war poetry working class poetry and 9/11 poetry as forms of testimony Rowland argues that testamentary poetry requires a different approach to traditional ways of dealing with poems due to the pressure of the metatext the original traumatic events the poems demands for the hyper attentiveness of the reader and a paradox of identification that often draws the reader towards identifying with the poet's experience but then reminds them of its sublimity He engages with the work of a diverse range of twentieth century authors and across the literature of several countries even uncovering new archival material The study ends with an analysis of the poetry of 9 11 engaging with the idea that it typifies a new era of testimony where global secondary witnesses react to a proliferation of media images This book ranges across the literature of several countries cultures and historical events in order to stress the large variety of contexts in which poetry has functioned productively as a form of testimony and to note the importance of the availability of translations to the formation of literary canons

Montaging Pushkin Alexandra Smith, 2006-01-01 Montaging Pushkin offers for the first time a coherent view of Pushkin's legacy to Russian twentieth century poetry giving many new insights Pushkin is shown to be a Russian forerunner of Baudelaire Furthermore it is argued that the rise of the Russian and European novel largely changed the ways Russian poets have looked at themselves and at poetic language that novelisation of poetry is detectable in the major works of poetry that engaged in a creative dialogue with Pushkin and that polyphonic lyric has been achieved Alexandra Smith locates significant examples of Pushkin's cinematographic cognition of reality suggesting that such dynamic descriptions of Petersburg helped create a highly original animated image of the city as comic apocalypse which followers of Pushkin appropriated very successfully even as far as the late twentieth century Montaging Pushkin will be of interest to all students of Russian poetry as well as specialists in literary theory European studies and the history of ideas
