Contemporary Jewish Writing Andrea Reiter,2013-11-12 This book examines Jewish writers and intellectuals in Austria analyzing filmic and electronic media alongside more traditional publication formats over the last 25 years Beginning with the Waldheim affair and the rhetorical response by the three most prominent members of the survivor generation Leon Zelman Simon Wiesenthal and Bruno Kreisky author Andrea Reiter sets a complicated standard for who is Jewish and what constitutes a Jewish response She reformulates the concepts of religious and secular Jewish cultural expression cutting across gender and Holocaust studies The work proceeds to questions of enacting or performing identity especially Jewish identity in the Austrian setting looking at how these Jewish writers and filmmakers in Austria perform their Jewishness not only in their public appearances and engagements but also in their works By engaging with novels poems and films this volume challenges the dominant claim that Jewish culture in Central Europe is almost exclusively borne by non Jews and consumed by non Jewish audiences establishing a new counter discourse against resurging anti-Semitism in the media

The Politics of Culture in Soviet-Occupied Germany, 1945-1949 David Pike,1992 They allow for a painstaking analysis of the political and aesthetic priorities of a developing Stalinist culture while raising intriguing questions about the early stages of the Cold War and the subsequent division of Germany In particular the gradual introduction of Zhdanovist or socialist realist political norms and aesthetic forms into Soviet occupied Germany closely paralleled developments in the Soviet Union during the infamous zhdanovshchina 1946-1948 Smear campaigns against formalism decadence and cosmopolitanism carefully tailored to local circumstances were the natural consequence Simultaneously the German Communists worked behind the scenes with the Soviet occupation regime to establish the administrative apparatus for the enforcement of these standards imported from the Soviet Union and calculated to infuse German art and literature with the proper political priorities
