Glory be to God: I can't do it with out Him!

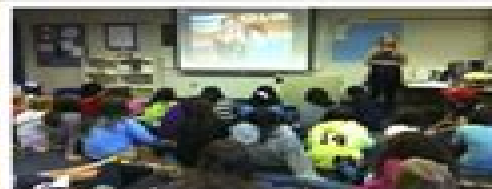

SPEAKING AT STUDENT VENTURE: TIMBER CREEK HIGH SCHOOL

Speaking at the Student Venture meeting at Timber Creek High School was a really neat experience God provided for me. It was my first time sharing the gospel with American high schoolers. In the Philippines the blonde hair and white skin grabs the kids attention immediately but I wasn't sure what was going to be the best way to approach American teens... how to keep their attention and have them hear God's message. But, I put my faith in the Holy Spirit and once again, God pulled through. I know had I walked out in front of the high school students on my own merit I would have fumbled... but with the Holy Spirit, God gave me the words and means to keep the students attention! Not only that but He had them hear His message. These talks aren't about me, I don't really even matter. All that matters is that I trust and invite the Holy Spirit to do the talk for me. I'd love to say I am a fine speaker but the truth is, I'm not. There is nothing special about me except that I invite the Holy spirit in and then trust Him. I pray today we all have the Holy Spirit dwelling inside us and daily call upon Him!

After sharing the good news with some of the Timber Creek High School students.

Speaking with students...

Back to the Philippines Jan 2012!

I will be in the Philippines January 14-29th, please pray the hearts of the Filipinos are open!

Prayer for Relief - ChatGPT Wilhelm Haberkorn, 2025-05-08 They erased his wife They silenced his voice But one thing they didn t expect was ChatGPT In this true courtroom chronicle Prayer for Relief ChatGPT follows Wilhelm Haberkorn s real life battle in Savannah Georgia after being expelled from a private club for challenging negligence With no legal training he turns to artificial intelligence to draft motions respond to judges and navigate the justice system like never before This is not just a memoir It s a call to power a blueprint for pro se litigants and a warning for the institutions that still believe silence is a shield

Inscribing Death Jessey J. C. Choo, 2022-07-31 This nuanced study traces how Chinese came to view death as an opportunity to fashion and convey social identities and memories during the medieval period 200 1000 and the Tang dynasty 618 907 specifically As Chinese society became increasingly multicultural and multireligious to achieve these aims people selectively adopted portrayed and interpreted various acts of remembrance Included in these were new and evolving burial mourning and commemorative practices joint burials of spouses extended family members and coreligionists relocation and reburial of bodies posthumous marriage and divorce interment of a summoned soul in the absence of a body and many changes to the classical mourning and commemorative rites that became the norm during the period Individuals independently constructed the socio religious meanings of a particular death and the handling of corpses by engaging in and reviewing acts of remembrance Drawing on a variety of sources including hundreds of newly excavated entombed epitaph inscriptions Inscribing Death illuminates the process through which the living and the dead negotiated this multiplicity of meanings and how they shaped their memories and identities both as individuals and as part of collectives In particular it details the growing emphasis on remembrance as an expression of filial piety and the grave as a focal point of ancestral sacrifice The work also identifies different modes of construction and representation of the self in life and death deepening our understanding of ancestral worship and its changing modus operandi and continuous shaping influence on the most intimate human relationships thus challenging the current monolithic representation of ancestral worship as an extension of families rather than individuals in medieval China

To the Letter Simon Garfield, 2013-11-14 The New York Times bestselling author of Just My Type and On the Map offers an ode to letter writing and its possible salvation in the digital age Few things are as exciting and potentially life changing as discovering an old letter And while etiquette books still extol the practice letter writing seems to be disappearing amid a flurry of e mails texting and tweeting The recent decline in letter writing marks a cultural shift so vast that in the future historians may divide time not between BC and AD but between the eras when people wrote letters and when they did not So New York Times bestselling author Simon Garfield asks Can anything be done to revive a practice that has dictated and tracked the progress of civilization for more than five hundred years In To the Letter Garfield traces the fascinating history of letter writing from the love letter and the business letter to the chain letter and the letter of recommendation He provides a tender critique of early letter writing manuals and analyzes celebrated correspondence from Erasmus to Princess Diana He also considers the role that letters have played as a literary device from Shakespeare to the epistolary novel all the rage in the eighteenth century and alive and well today with bestsellers like The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society At a time when the decline of letter writing appears to be irreversible Garfield is the perfect candidate to inspire bibliophiles to put pen to paper and create a form of expression emotion and tactile delight we may clasp to our heart

Zaret,2025-08-05 Petitioning was the main route by which the agency of subjects engaged the authority of rulers Most studies explore it as a practice for sending requests to central and local representatives of state power in empires kingdoms and city states Yet the practice occurs in other fields of power for example in medieval papal governance seigneurial regimes and other types of lordship e g queenship Petition and response was the inverse twin to command and obey and just as inherent and indispensable for managing pre modern power relations Requests by petitioners were endlessly diverse Petitions were the universal request form for subjects who sought assistance with every conceivable problem or opportunity In addition to resolving conflicts with other subjects or officials there were requests for appointments promotions to higher positions or social ranks exemptions pardons privileges pensions salary increases charitable relief and more Some petitioners were docile and ingenuous others were ingenious even predatory petitioners whose initiatives reveal high levels of agency This is the first truly comparative analysis of pre modern petitioning across Eurasia Across a wide range of historical case studies and cutting against the grain of the dominant one dimensional social science perspective on pre modern power relations David Zaret shows petitioning in pre modern Eurasia to have been a dynamic tool of state and not as is often assumed merely an instrument of protest or imitation of religious prayer Comparative study shows the practice to have been remarkably uniform and one whose ubiquity and prominence are astounding for its diverse socio cultural contexts there are Sumerian Akkadian and Aramaic petitions in ancient Mesopotamia demotic petitions in Egypt when Pharaohs ruled then Greek ones after imposition of Ptolemaic rule Other contexts for the practice include Zoroastrian Persia Hellenic and Roman cultures of benefaction Christianity Islam Daoism Confucianism and the syncretic mix of Shinto and Buddhism in Japan In so doing Zaret bridges literatures of two fields and makes important contributions to both historical research on petitioning which is often confined to case studies and theories of power relations arguably the most heavily plowed field in social theory
