

Personal Philosophy on Advanced Practice Nursing and Healthcare

Introduction

Caring, which is a mainstay characteristic of nursing practice, has been christened as a complex process that is grounded on professional and ethical contexts. While examining the nursing ethos that safeguard the right of patients to human dignity, Judge-Ellis and Wilson (2017) identified caring as a primary moral obligation of the ethical frameworks underlying these ethos. I chose to become an advanced practice nurse because my demeanor and my disposition are adequately suited for providing this care.

Nursing philosophy is an integral element that helps in the identification of the approach that a nursing practitioner adopts towards delivering his or her professional obligations (Marchuk, 2014). The purpose of this paper is to outline my personal philosophy on advanced practice nursing and healthcare with respect to my future role as an advanced practice nurse. In this paper, my personal philosophy concepts that are specific to the nursing metaparadigms are established from published philosophies. Through evidence-based justification of theory, this paper explains how Peplau's Theory of Interpersonal Relations relates to my future practice nursing role and my personal philosophy. To provide ethical and compassionate care to the patients in a healing environment, there needs to be reciprocity between the nurses and the patients, as this is the bedrock of patient-centered treatment care.

Advanced Practice Nursing Philosophy

With the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010, more emphasis has been dedicated towards identifying the roles of healthcare professionals in guaranteeing the safety and safeguarding the rights of the patients (American Nurses Association, 2018).

Personal Philosophy and Disciplinary Perspective of Nursing Mona Alaanzi, 2016-11-17 Essay aus dem Jahr 2016 im Fachbereich Pflegewissenschaft Pflegemanagement Sprache Deutsch Abstract Gaining more experience and knowledge in philosophy nursing philosophy and the nursing paradigm has helped me to know more about myself as a human being and as a nurse In the process of reading I find it hard to commit to one point of view or one perspective however now I clearly see where I fit My philosophical perspective in general and in nursing specifically are heavily influenced by the empiricism and positivism perspective and ultimately aligns with the totality nursing paradigm From my ontological perspective in general I believe in objectivism that there is a single truth and there is a single reality I believe that we as human beings are always in interaction with the external reality which is the environment I believe that the environment is everything surrounding us and we as human beings interact with and influence the environment and the environment interacts with and influences us in turn In other words if someone follows a certain action he she will be able to predict what the outcomes will be To illustrate if I throw a ball up in the air I expect that it will hit the ground Another example could be if I follow a specific diet and a specific exercise to lose weight then the result will be what I expected which is weight loss unless there are some other contributing factors From my epistemological standpoint I believe that reality can be captured by senses and can be predicted by experience I believe that there is no knowledge without experience To illustrate if someone says an apple is red I can't imagine what the apple looks like if I have never seen a red one before How can one know what something tastes like if they have never tasted it Experience is anything that came across our mind at any certain time in the past I also believe that knowledge can be gained through reasoning According to wisdom in my culture The reason is known the surprise is blown In other words knowledge needs clarifications and explanation so only reasoning can transform sensory data into something meaningful and understandable philosopher and theologian K E L gstrup 1905 1981 and in particular his key text The Ethical Demand 1956 In The Radical Demand in L gstrup s Ethics Robert Stern offers a full account of that text and situates L gstrup s distinctive position in relation to Kant Kierkegaard Levinas Darwall and Luther For L gstrup the ethical situation is primarily one in which the fate of the other person is placed in your hands where it is then your responsibility to do what is best for them The demand therefore does not come from the other person as such as what they ask you to do may be different from what you should do It is also not laid down by social rules nor by God or by any formal principle of practical reason such as Kant s principle of universalizability Rather it comes from what is required to care for the other and the directive power of their needs in the situation L gstrup therefore rejects accounts of ethical obligation based on the commands of God or on abstract principles governing practical reason or on social norms instead he develops a different picture at the basis of which is our interdependence which he argues gives his ethics a grounding in the nature of life itself
