Our Biggest Experiment Alice Bell, 2021-09-21 Traversing science politics and technology Our Biggest Experiment shines a spotlight on the little known scientists who sounded the alarm to reveal the history behind the defining story of our age the climate crisis Our understanding of the Earth's fluctuating environment is an extraordinary story of human perception and scientific endeavor It also began much earlier than we might think In Our Biggest Experiment Alice Bell takes us back to climate change science's earliest steps in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries through the point when concern started to rise in the 1950s and right up to today where the debate is over and the world is finally starting to face up to the reality that things are going to get a lot hotter a lot drier in some places and a lot wetter in others with catastrophic consequences for most of Earth's biomes Our Biggest Experiment recounts how the world became addicted to fossil fuels how we discovered that electricity could be a savior and how renewable energy is far from a twentieth century discovery Bell cuts through complicated jargon and jumbles of numbers to show how we're getting to grips with what is now the defining issue of our time The message she relays is ultimately hopeful harnessing the ingenuity and intelligence that has driven the history of climate change research can result in a more sustainable and bearable future for humanity

The impact of spending cuts on science and scientific research Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, 2010-03-25 The pressure to be seen to be making cuts across the public sector is threatening to undermine both the Government's good record on investment in science and the economic recovery Whilst the contribution of a strong domestic science base is widely acknowledged methodological problems with quantifying its precise value to the economy mean that it is in danger of losing out in Whitehall negotiations Scientists are under increasing pressure to demonstrate the impact of their work and there is concern that areas without immediate technology applications are being undervalued The Committee believes the Government faced a strategic choice invest in areas with the greatest potential to influence and improve other areas of spending or make cuts of little significance now but that will have a devastating effect upon British science and the economy in the years to come
