My Name Is Cool Antonio Sacre,2013-07-01 In 1960 my father got into a rowboat from Havana Cuba and rowed 90 miles to the United States to start his new life By the time I got into seventh grade I was telling my friends that my father saved all of his family all of his friends piled everyone into that boat and rowed everybody over to America By the time I got into high school I was telling my friends that my father stole five boats from Castro's navy saved all of his friends all of his family all of his first second third fourth and fifth cousins everyone on his block all of the pets and everybody on his baseball team He piled them into the boat There was no room for him in the boat so he tied those boats together with a big rope put that rope around his shoulders and he swam everybody over to the United States Born in Boston to a Cuban father and an Irish American mother Antonio Sacre is one of the few leprecaunos on the national speaking circuit Using his own personal history and telling the stories that audiences across the nation have found so captivating and wonderful this award winning storyteller and author weaves the Spanish language Cuban and Mexican customs and Irish humor into an unforgettable book of humor inspiration tradition and family My Name is Cool is a classic story sure to transcend like the author himself cultures and boundaries Once Upon a Time in a Dark and Scary Book K. Shryock Hood,2018-06-07 Contemporary American horror literature for children and young adults has two bold messages for readers adults are untrustworthy unreliable and often dangerous and the monster always wins as it must if there is to be a sequel Examining the young adult horror series and the religious horror series for children Left Behind The Kids for the first time and tracing the unstoppable monster to Seuss s Cat in the Hat this book sheds new light on the problematic message produced by the combination of marketing and books for contemporary American young readers
