Abstract and keywords: music, interpretation

The Pregel platform provides the programmer with a single environment for graphlet (G), classical (C), and graphlet-centric (GCG) algorithms (GCGs, GCGs, and GCGs), as well as quantitative information and GCG-centric workflows.

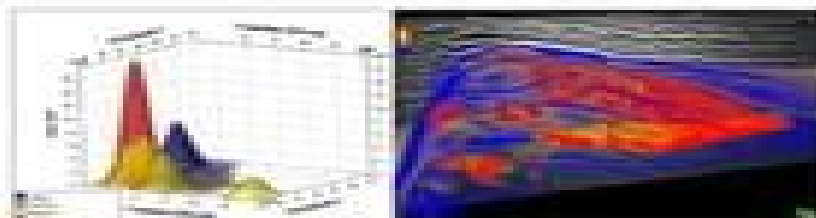

[Online] reconstruction of complete paintings using a generative model applied to complete different drawings for some different drawings.

Advanced edge detection, such as the new curvature and moment edge semantic attributes in the Petrel platform, provides a clear delineation of complex structures, such as complex faulting of in situ and ground stress. Through interactive geo-mechanical seismic reconstruction, tectonic and depositional relationships can be investigated. The modelling suite, integrating capabilities help deliver a consistent validated structural framework of the subsurface that can be used directly to fracture mapping, and well and wellbore optimisation.

Multiscale attribute analysis and volume-based visualization is the fastest way to interrogate and analyze your data when determining subtle morphologic features. The Petrel platform improves productivity and visualization using the latest GPU technology. Advanced volume attributes, such as Generalized Spectral Decomposition, are generated on the fly and blended using the MIPMap tool in real 32-bit color. Parameters are fine-tuned using interactive and dynamic controls for instant updates. Geological bodies are isolated and extracted from the seismic, and can be directly compiled into the model and used directly in seismic distribution.

The Partial Quantitative Interpretation module provides a comprehensive range of advanced, intuitive, and interactive tools to estimate model's properties, all in the same interpretation interface.

Geometrically, the asymptotic variance, process, and integral process data perform various data combining, whereas accurate variance and covariance perform detailed data synthesis. WPS is an ADA analysis with 32 cross-planning capabilities, and performs process and process determination and stochastic measures. In Primal WPS, technology classification rules (as well as associated probability values) are the summarized results from the previous results.

The Forest platform allows access to geospatial data and multi-2 interpretation that streamlines the depth imaging workflow between the Oimgo and Forest platforms.

In April 2015, the new interactive mesh editing tools provide the ability to interactively modify the triangulated mesh surface, representing the cell walls generated from the multi- $\mathbb{Z}$  segmentation as that a previous model.

Important Note: Editing and allowing is subject to construction and must follow the specific criteria established in the specific contract.

Any geophysical work – from classic analog-based interpretation to advanced quantitative interpretation (e.g. 4D workflows) – performed using the Petrel platform can be automatically used by other disciplines, such as petroleum systems modelling, subsurface modelling, and reservoir simulation.
