Multicultural/Multiracial Project, 1973 Monitoring the Quality of Education in Schools Vanessa

Scherman, Roel J. Bosker, Sarah J. Howie, 2016-12-27 The monitoring of quality has been part of the educational landscape for many decades Originally the need to monitor arose as part of an economic process whereby policy makers wanted to discern the return on investment in education This bottom line thinking while still prominent has receded into the background in light of global changes and the emergence of a global economy Now in addition to the question what is the return on investment the more important question is are the students in schools ready to participate in the economy of a 21st century society This is underpinned by the inquiry into what knowledge and competencies are required for students to participate meaningfully in nation building This inquiry can only be undertaken by means of monitoring evaluating where the students are and what is required so that students reach their potential In an ever changing technologically oriented world the manner in which competencies and knowledge are identified and how these need to be measured and identified is important In this book the theory and practice of underpinning the monitoring of the quality of education is described This is followed by a number of practical examples in the form of country case studies on how theory plays out in practice The book further provides common themes across developed and developing emerging economies underscoring the need for approaches which are locally relevant but internationally transferable OECD Reviews of Evaluation and Assessment in Education: Serbia

Maghnouj Soumaya, Salinas Daniel, Kitchen Hannah, Guthrie Caitlyn, Bethell George, Fordham Elizabeth, 2020-03-20 This review developed in cooperation with UNICEF provides Serbia with recommendations to help strengthen its evaluation and assessment system to focus on support for student learning It will be of interest to Serbia as well as other countries looking to make more effective use of their evaluation and assessment system to improve quality and equity and result in better outcomes for all students The Practice and Theory of School Improvement David Hopkins, 2008-05-13 ANDY

HARGREAVES Department of Teacher Education Curriculum and Instruction Lynch School of Education Boston College MA U S A ANN LIEBERMAN Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching Stanford CA U S A MICHAEL FULLAN Ontario Institute for Studies in Education University of Toronto Canada DAVID HOPKINS Department for Education and Skills London U K This set of four volumes on Educational Change brings together evidence and insights on educational change issues from leading writers and researchers in the field from across the world Many of these writers whose chapters have been specially written for these books have been investigating helping initiate and implementing educational change for most or all of their lengthy careers Others are working on the cutting edge of theory and practice in educational change taking the field in new or even more challenging directions And some are more skeptical about the literature of educational change and the assumptions on which it rests They help us to approach projects of understanding or initiating educational change more deeply reflectively and realistically Educational change and reform have rarely had so much prominence within public policy in so many different places Educational change is ubiquitous It figures large in Presidential and Prime Ministerial speeches It is at or near the top of many National policy agendas Everywhere educational change is not only a policy priority but also major public news Yet action to bring about educational change usually exceeds people s understanding of how to do so effectively
