Blood Royal: A Novel Grant Allen,2017-03-19 The Victorian Novel and the Problems of Marine Language Matthew P. M. Kerr,2022-01-27 To write about the sea in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries was to do so against a vast accretion of past deeds patterns of thought and particularly patterns of expression many of which had begun to feel not just settled but exhausted The Victorian Novel and the Problems of Marine Language takes up this circumstance showing how prose writers in this period grappled with the super conventionalized nature of the sea as a setting as a shaper of plot and character as a structuring motif and as a source of metaphor But while writing about the sea required careful negotiation of multiple and sometimes conflicting associations the sea's multiplicity and freight function not just as impediments to thought or expression but as sources of intellectual and expressive possibilities The Victorian Novel and the Problems of Marine Language treats a provocatively diverse group of key authors spanning from the 1830s to the 1930s and including both those inextricably associated with the sea Frederick Marryat Joseph Conrad and those whose writings are less obviously marine such as Charlotte Bront Charles Dickens George Eliot William Makepeace Thackeray and Virginia Woolf What these writers share among other things is that they simultaneously register and turn to account the difficulties that attend writing about and writing with the sea In the process their sea writing sheds new light on the value of marginalized representational techniques including repetition cliché and imprecision Vanessa Faire. A Novel George Joseph (Novelist.),1878 The Ancient Novel and Early Christian and Jewish Narrative: Fictional Intersections Marília Futre Pinheiro,Judith Perkins,Richard I. Pervo,2013-01-06 This innovative collection explores the vital role played by fictional narratives in Christian and Jewish self fashioning in the early Roman imperial period Employing a diversity of approaches including cultural studies feminist philological and narratological expert scholars from six countries offer twelve essays on Christian fictions or fictionalized texts and one essay on Aseneth All the papers were originally presented at the Fourth International Conference on the Ancient Novel in Lisbon Portugal in 2008 The papers emphasize historical contextualization and comparative methodologies and will appeal to all those interested in early Christianity the Ancient novel Roman imperial history feminist studies and canonization processes At the Mercy of Tiberius: A Novel Augusta Jane Evans,2020-09-28 You are obstinate and ungrateful You would rather see me suffer and die than bend your stubborn pride in the effort to obtain relief for me You will not try to save me The thin hysterically unsteady voice ended in a sob and the frail wasted form of the speaker leaned forward as if the issue of life or death hung upon an answer The tower clock of a neighboring church began to strike the hour of noon and not until the echo of the last stroke had died away was there a reply to the appeal Mother try to be just to me My pride is for you not for myself I shrink from seeing my mother crawl to the feet of a man who has disowned and spurned her I cannot consent that she should humbly beg for rights so unnaturally withheld Every instinct of my nature revolts from the step you require of me and I feel as if you held a hot iron in your hand waiting to brand me Your proud sensitiveness runs in a strange groove and it seems you would prefer to see me a pauper in a Hospital rather than go to your grandfather and ask for help Beryl time presses and if I die for want of aid you will be responsible when it is too late you will reproach yourself If I only knew where and how to reach my dear boy I should not importune you Bertie would not refuse obedience to say wishes The silence which followed was so prolonged that a mouse crept from its covert in some corner of the comfortless garret room and nibbled at the fragments of bread scattered on the table Beryl stood at the dormer window holding aside the faded blue cotton curtain and the mid day glare falling upon her showed every curve of her tall full form every line in the calm pale Sibylline face The large steel gray eyes were shaded by drooping lids heavily fringed with black lashes but when raised in a steady gaze the pupils appeared abnormally dilated and the delicately traced black brows that overarched them contrasted conspicuously with the wealth of deep auburn hair darkened by mahogany tints which rolled back in shining waves from her blue veined temples While moulding the figure and features upon a scale almost heroic nature had jealously guarded the symmetry of her work and in addition to the perfect proportion of the statuesque outlines had bestowed upon the firm white flesh a gleaming smoothness suggestive of fine grained marble highly polished Majesty of mien implies much which the comparatively short period of eighteen years rarely confers yet majestic most properly describes this girl whose archetype Veleda read runic myths to the Bructeri in the twilight of history Beryl crossed the room and with her hands folded tightly together came to the low bed on which lay the wreck of a once beautiful woman and stood for a moment silent and pre occupied With a sudden gesture of surrender she stooped her noble head as if assuming a yoke and drew one long deep breath Did some prophetic intuition show her at that instant the Phicean Hill and its dread tenant which sooner or later we must all confront Dear mother I submit Obedience to your commands certainly ought not to lead me astray yet I feel that I stand at the cross roads longing to turn and flee from the way whither your finger points I have no hope of accomplishing any good and nothing but humiliation can result from the experiment but I will go Sometimes I believe that fate maliciously hunts up the things we most bitterly abhor and one by one sets them down before us labelled Duty When do you wish me to start To night at nine o clock In the letter which you will take to father I have told him our destitution and that the money spent for your railway ticket has been obtained by the sacrifice of the diamonds and pearls that were set around my mother s picture that cameo which he had cut in Rome and framed in Paris Beryl so much depends on the impression you make upon him that you must guard your manner against haughtiness Try to be patient my daughter and if he should seem harsh do not resent his words He is old now and proud and bitter but he once had a tender love for me I was his idol and when my child pleads he will relent

Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth-Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair, 2012-02-16 In Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair explores how nineteenth century descriptions of femininity saturate both Woolf's fiction and her modernist manifestos Moving between the Victorian and modernist periods Blair looks at a range of nineteenth and early twentieth century sources including the literature of conduct and household management as well as autobiography essay poetry and fiction She argues for a reevaluation of Woolf's persistent yet vexed fascination with English domesticity and female creativity by juxtaposing the novels of Elizabeth Gaskell and Margaret Oliphant two popular Victorian novelists against Woolf's own novels and essays Blair then traces unacknowledged lines of influence and complex interpretations that Woolf attempted to disavow While reconsidering Woolf's analysis of women and fiction Blair simultaneously deepens our appreciation of Woolf's work and advances our understanding of feminine aesthetics

Missing Links John Reader, 2011-10-27 This is the story of the search for human origins from the Middle Ages when questions of the earth's antiquity first began to arise through to the latest genetic discoveries that show the interrelatedness of all living creatures Central to the story is the part played by fossils first in establishing the age of the Earth then following Darwin in the pursuit of possible Missing Links that would establish whether or not humans and chimpanzees share a common ancestor John Reader's passion for this quest palaeoanthropology began in the 1960s when he reported for Life Magazine on Richard Leakey's first fossil hunting expedition to the badlands of East Turkana in Kenya Drawing on both historic and recent research he tells the fascinating story of the science as it has developed from the activities of a few dedicated individuals into the rigorous multidisciplinary work of today His arresting photographs give a unique insight into the fossils the discoverers and the settings His vivid narrative reveals both the context in which our ancestors evolved and also the realities confronting the modern scientist The story he tells is peopled by eccentrics and enthusiasts and punctuated by controversy and even fraud It is a celebration of discoveries Neanderthal Man in the 1850s Java Man 1891 Australopithecus 1925 Peking Man 1926 Homo habilis 1964 Lucy 1978 Floresiensis 2004 and Ardipithecus 2009 It is a story of fragmentary shards of evidence and the competing interpretations built upon them And it is a tale of scientific breakthroughs dating technology genetics and molecular biology that have enabled us to set the fossil evidence in the context of human evolution John Reader's first book on this subject Missing Links The Hunt for Earliest Man 1981 was described in Nature as the best popular account of palaeoanthropology I have ever read His new book covers the thirty years of discovery that have followed
