International and Comparative Education Brendan Bartram, 2017-08-07 International and Comparative Education offers detailed and wide ranging illustrations of the ways in which comparison can illuminate our understanding of contemporary education systems by exploring issues in relation to specific educational sectors from early years and primary schooling through to further adult and higher education Key areas and debates examined include Alternative education provision Early years pedagogy and training Spiritual moral social and cultural development in primary schooling Work related learning in secondary schools The world of private tutoring Economic austerity and further education Apprenticeships and vocational education Adult education and training Higher education in a globalised world Teacher training and international rankings Drawing on these wide ranging themes across a number of national contexts to provoke critical thinking and reflection each chapter includes discussion points and further reading providing a valuable resource for all Education Studies students

Assessment: Getting it Right in a Week Martin Fautley, Alison Daubney, 2025-02-28 Is assessment just a tick box exercise for you Are you able to integrate assessment into your everyday teaching Are you sure that your assessment of learners leads to learning gains This book acknowledges that you are the expert in your own particular context and allows you to take control of assessment for your learners and yourself It presents strategies and responds to current educational challenges offering a variety of assessment approaches and a straightforward toolkit of ideas for effective assessment Designed to be read over a week the book is divided into seven concise chapters detailing clear strategies examining the strategy in action and summarising the underpinning theory So sit back and enjoy exploring what meaningful assessment can do for you and your learners

Gender and Education in England since 1770 Jane Martin, 2022-01-02 This book takes a novel approach to the topic combining biographical approaches and local history a synthesis of sociological and historical literature with new research to address a variety of themes and provide a comprehensive rounded history demonstrating the entanglement of educational experience and the influence of different modes of discrimination and prejudice Using the lens of gender Jane Martin reassesses the gendered nature of the modern history of education and provides an overview of intertwined aspects of education society politics and power Its organisation is user friendly providing accessible information with regard to chronologies of legislation and key events to reflect constancy and change whilst mapping the larger political economic social and cultural contexts making it ideal for use as a textbook or a resource for teachers and students

Educating Tomorrow's Engineers Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, 2013-02-08 In the UK we teach young people to become computer users and consumers rather than programmers and software engineers This is creating a chronic skills gap in ICT We need around 82 000 engineers and technicians just to deal with retirements up to 2016 and 830 000 SET professionals by 2020 On the plus side the Government's proposal to include computer science as a fourth science option to count towards the EBac is welcomed

The Committee also welcomes the EBac's focus on attainment of mathematics and science GCSEs but is concerned that subjects such as Design and Technology D T might be marginalised. A Technical Baccalaureate TechBac is being designed but if it is to be a success schools should be incentivised to focus on the TechBac by making it equivalent to the EBac. Reforms to vocational education following the Wolf Review meant that Level 2 of the Engineering Diploma a qualification highly regarded would count as equivalent to one GCSE despite requiring curriculum time and effort equivalent to several GCSEs. The Engineering Diploma however is currently being redesigned as four separate qualifications. The Committee also expressed concerns over the Department for Education's DfE lack of clarity on its research budget and use of evidence in decision making. The DfE needs to place greater focus on gathering evidence before changes to qualifications are made and must leave sufficient time for evidence to be gathered on the effectiveness of policies before introducing further change. The possibility of gathering evidence from randomised controlled trials RCTs should be seriously considered. Essential Theory for Primary Teachers Lynne Graham-Matheson, 2014-11-20. Essential Theory for Primary Teachers is a succinct accessible introduction to the key theories, concepts and policies that have shaped primary education as we know it and underpin our practice in the classroom. Written with the ever busy training and practising teacher in mind, this straightforward guide offers the foundations for a solid understanding of how we teach and learn effectively and how we develop as professionals. Together with key further reading, highlights a glossary of acronyms and an at a glance timeline of the major events, acts and policies in education. It explains core topics: A short history of the education system, What is education for, Inequality and education, Special educational needs and inclusion, Child development, How children learn, Theories of motivation, Behaviour for learning, Assessment for learning, Understanding and using research evidence, Undertaking your own action research project. Essential Theory for Primary Teachers brings together in one volume theory and knowledge that stands the test of time; it guides you through what others have said about them and will help you relate them to your own practice. A much needed source of guidance for training and newly qualified teachers, it will support you as you develop the skills you need to teach confidently and help your learners succeed. Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).

Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 2014. The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords, 2013. Criminology and Criminal Justice Peter Joyce, 2014-04-04. This book presents a summary of the key ideas that seek to explain criminal behaviour and the measures that have been developed to prevent crime. A broad overview of the criminal justice system is provided in order to explain the operations of the key criminal justice agencies and the processes that are involved in bringing offenders to justice. Readers are encouraged to develop the basic knowledge they have obtained in these areas by tackling a number of questions, making use of additional reading of key texts suggested in the book. Attention is devoted to key sources from which information regarding crime and the criminal justice system can be explained. Good practice regarding the presentation and assessment of written work is also provided in particular in connection with referencing Readers are also introduced to the wide variety of methods that can be used to carry out criminological research and are invited to engage in exercises that include the marking of sample essays and the design of a questionnaire The Times Index ,2010 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement
