

State of Our Schools Speech by Superintendent Ann Clark

Thank you, Steven. Good morning, everyone. It's a pleasure to welcome all of you to our annual State of Our Schools event. Thank you for making time to join us.

As Steven told you, we first met when he was in middle school at Alexander Graham and I was the principal there. It has been my privilege to follow his journey from student to successful adult. We want every student in CMS to make that journey successfully. Ensuring that every child completes the journey is the mission of CMS. All of us in this room today care about our children and their education.

Educating a child is a process that begins at home and continues all the way through school and into the workplace and the wider world. Education cannot be accomplished or measured in a single day, a single test or a single year. It's a lifelong journey that builds on success in the early grades to create a foundation for learning later on. It's a continuum of learning and support that begins when a child enters school and continues all the way through high school and beyond. So many people are needed along the way. Parents, teachers, school staff, administrators all have a role to play. So do many others – volunteers, working professionals, citizens, elected officials.

We are fortunate to have the support of our district employees and the wider community. I've asked seven people who are involved with CMS to tell their stories during today's program and they are here on stage. Let me introduce them now and then you'll hear from them as we go along. I will introduce them starting from your left. Psalms Olivia Phifer White is a senior at Harding University High School. Next to her is Katie B. Morris, who chairs the Belk Foundation. Mark Rohlinger is the plant technical director for Bosch Rexroth in Charlotte. Lecia Shockley is the 2014 CMS Teacher of the Year and teaches second grade at Selwyn Elementary. Michael DeVaul is senior vice president of organizational advancement for the YMCA and the proud parent of two CMS graduates. Carmen Concepcion is the principal at Oaklawn Language Academy. Justin Ashley is a social studies teacher at Community House Middle School. We are very glad to have all of you with us today – thank you for taking part in our State of Our Schools event.

Assessment of Communication Disorders in Children M.N. Hegde, Frances Pomaville, 2021-03-01 Assessment of Communication Disorders in Children Resources and Protocols Fourth Edition offers a unique combination of scholarly information invaluable resources and time saving protocols on assessment of the full range of communication disorders in children including nonverbal or minimally verbal children. Most resource books offer limited research and scholarly information thus making them unsuitable as textbooks for academic courses on assessment and diagnosis. Similarly, most traditional textbooks do not include practical, easy-to-use and time-saving resources and protocols that the practicing clinicians can readily use during assessment sessions. By combining the strengths of traditional texts with newer assessment resources and protocols, this one-of-a-kind book offers a single comprehensive source that is suitable as a textbook and useful as a practical clinical resource. This bestselling and trusted text includes an extensive discussion of issues in using standardized tests along with detailed information on psychometric principles and offers a detailed discussion of alternative assessment approaches that minimize the problems inherent to standardized tests. Describes a new comprehensive and integrated assessment approach that derives its strengths from the traditional as well as several alternative approaches. Addresses the multicultural issues in assessing communication disorders in children and integrates culturally responsive assessment procedures into the assessment protocols. Contains two chapters for each disorder: one on resources that offers scholarly and research background and one on resources that describe practical procedures and protocols that save the clinician's preparation time. New to the Fourth Edition: A new section on the assessment of voice in transgender and gender-diverse adolescents; A new section on selective mutism in bilingual children; included in alternative and integrated assessment of ethnoculturally diverse children; All normative tables placed in relevant chapter appendices for quick access. The content has been updated throughout to reflect the current state of research. Updated diagnostic features of all childhood communication disorders. All protocols streamlined and edited for precision in book and on website. Updated resources for commonly used assessment instruments and standardized tests now available on the companion website. All defined and key terms are now bolded. Simplified writing style and reduced redundancy for increased readability and comprehension.
