Harvard Square Catherine J. Turco,2023-02-28 Harvard Square isn t what it used to be Spend any time there and you re bound to hear that lament Yet people have been saying the very same thing for well over a century So what does it really mean that Harvard Square or any other beloved Main Street or downtown isn t what it used to be Catherine J Turco an economic sociologist and longtime denizen of Harvard Square set out to answer this question after she started to wonder about her own complicated feelings concerning the changing Square Diving into Harvard Square s past and present Turco explores why we love our local marketplaces and why we so often struggle with changes in them Along the way she introduces readers to a compelling set of characters including the early twentieth century businessmen who bonded over scotch and cigars to found the Harvard Square Business Association a feisty frugal landlady who became one of the Square's most powerful property owners in the mid 1900s a neighborhood group calling itself the Harvard Square Defense Fund that fought real estate developers throughout the 1980s and 90s and a local businesswoman who in recent years strove to keep her shop afloat amid personal tragedy the rise of Amazon and a globalizing property market that sent her rent soaring Harvard Square tells the crazy complicated love story of one quirky little marketplace and in the process reveals the hidden love story Americans everywhere have long had with their own Main Streets and downtowns Offering a new and powerful lens that exposes the stability and instability the security and insecurity markets provide Turco transforms how we think about our cherished local marketplaces and markets in general We come to see that our relationship with the markets in our lives is and has always been about our relationship with ourselves and one another how we come together and how we come apart
