Ian McEwan Irena Książopolska, 2024-04-30 This book offers a discussion of seven canonical novels by Ian McEwan: The Cement Garden, The Comfort of Strangers, The Child in Time, The Innocent, Black Dogs, Atonement, and On Chesil Beach. The book introduces radical new readings which are offered not as ultimate and conclusive solutions of the textual puzzles but as possibilities to engage with the text creatively to enrich the critical consensus and restore interpretative freedom to the readers. This project formulates a strategy of inclusive reading, an approach to the text that does not seek to reduce it to a single interpretation and yet is comprehensively informed through the analysis of the primary text, critical discussion, authorial comments, and the context of the composition. Each reading demonstrates the metafictional structure of the texts, indicating that McEwan's works may be treated as invitations to roam within their worlds, examining the multiple frames of their structure and the meanings generated thereby. All the chapters attend to submerged, repressed, or deliberately masked voices. The Cement Garden is seen as a multi-layered dream with a shifting hierarchy of dreamers. The Comfort of Strangers is viewed as an inverted metafiction with insubstantial characters corrupting more complex heroes. The Child in Time is read as Stephen's book written for his dead daughter. The Innocent as a memory narrative of Leonard who refuses to notice Maria's role as a spy. In Black Dogs, the over-exposure of unreliability is studied as a screen for personal trauma. In the analysis of Atonement, Briony's claim to authorship is questioned, and Cecilia is suggested as an alternative narrative agent. Finally, examining On Chesil Beach, both characters' voices are reconstructed in search of the superior narrative power which, in the end, is seen to be elusive as the text seeks to undermine the hierarchy of voices.

Family and Relationships in Ian McEwan's Fiction Tomasz Dobrogoszcz, 2018-02-23 The book provides a lucid analysis of all Ian McEwan fiction published to date, from his 1975 debut short stories up to the 2016 novel Nutshell, spanning forty years of his literary career. Apart from a general discussion of McEwan's works, the study offers a uniform focal point: it concentrates on one of the key issues taken up by the writer, the aspect of relationships between partners and between family members. As the book demonstrates, the novelist employs interpersonal relations to establish a pertinent context in which he can dramatically portray the process of identity formation in his characters. Throughout his fiction, McEwan consistently uses references to psychoanalysis, either veiled or direct. The proposed book investigates the novelist's oeuvre through the lens of the psychoanalytic theory developed by Jacques Lacan. The approach used makes the book useful both for readers well familiar with this apparatus and for those who need introduction to Lacanian psychoanalysis and such of his concepts as desire, fantasy, the symbolic order, or the Name of the Father.
