My good sailor friend Captain Crutchley has asked me to write a foreword to his autobiography It is a pleasure to comply The author began his life at sea in sailing ships in the age of the Black Ball liners the Baltimore clipper ships and those perfect specimens of naval architecture built in Aberdeen for the China tea trade Captain Crutchley tells of the hardships of the sea He gives stirring descriptions of the performances of the ships in which he sailed His narrative may perhaps be briefly supplemented Sir George Holmes in his book on ancient and modern ships quotes many examples of record passages In 1851 the Nightingale in a race from Shanghai to Deal ran on one occasion 336 knots in twenty four hours In the same year the Flying Cloud in a voyage from New York to San Francisco ran 427 knots in one day The Thermopyl 886 tons register built by Messrs Steel of Greenock sailed 354 knots in twenty four hours The Aberdeen clippers of the sixties did marvellous work Under sail the Ariel Taeping and Serica started together from Foochow on May 30 1866 They met off the Lizard on September 6 and on the same day the Taeping arrived in the East India Dock at 9 45 p m and the Ariel at 10 15 p m a difference of half an hour after racing for over three months on end The present writer recalls a like personal experience of more recent date In 1905 a race was sailed from Sandy Hook to the Lizard for a cup offered by the German Emperor On that occasion the Valhalla a full rigged ship Hildegard and Endymion two masted fore and aft schooners and the Sunbeam a three masted topsail yard schooner anchored off Cowes on the same tide the distance of more than 3300 miles from Sandy Hook having been covered in fourteen days After years of service at sea Captain Crutchley passed from sail to steam He filled important commands with distinguished success He began with the comparatively easy voyage to the Cape In the later years of his career at sea he was engaged in Australasian voyages when his experience in sailing ships enabled him by the combined power of sail and steam to make successful voyages In Captain Crutchley's time ships coming direct from the homeland were the bonds of empire They received a warm welcome on their arrival in the distant ports of New Zealand and Australia Captain Crutchley earned a deserved popularity as a representative seaman He began his work as an empire builder while serving at sea It was continued ashore for a period of many years in the capacity of Secretary of the Navy League The book abounds in valuable hints on discipline at sea The vessels commanded by Captain Crutchley were happy ships It only remains to commend this volume as interesting reading to all who love the sea and admire the hardy breed of men who do business in great waters
