Learning to Die in London, 1380-1540 Amy Appleford,2014-10-24 Taking as her focus a body of writings in poetic didactic and legal modes that circulated in England s capital between the 1380s just a generation after the Black Death and the first decade of the English reformation in the 1530s Amy Appleford offers the first full length study of the Middle English art of dying ars moriendi An educated awareness of death and mortality was a vital aspect of medieval civic culture she contends critical not only to the shaping of single lives and the management of families and households but also to the practices of cultural memory the building of institutions and the good government of the city itself In fifteenth century London in particular where an increasingly laicized reformist religiosity coexisted with an ambitious program of urban renewal cultivating a sophisticated attitude toward death was understood as essential to good living in the widest sense The virtuous ordering of self household and city rested on a proper attitude toward mortality on the part both of the ruled and of their secular and religious rulers The intricacies of keeping death constantly in mind informed not only the religious prose of the period but also literary and visual arts In London s version of the famous image text known as the Dance of Death Thomas Hoccleve s poetic collection The Series and the early sixteenth century prose treatises of Tudor writers Richard Whitford Thomas Lupset and Thomas More death is understood as an explicitly generative force one capable if properly managed of providing vital personal social and literary opportunities

Death and Digital Media Michael Arnold,Martin Gibbs,Tamara Kohn,James Meese,Bjorn Nansen,2017-11-22 Death and Digital Media provides a critical overview of how people mourn commemorate and interact with the dead through digital media It maps the historical and shifting landscape of digital death considering a wide range of social commercial and institutional responses to technological innovations The authors examine multiple digital platforms and offer a series of case studies drawn from North America Europe and Australia The book delivers fresh insight and analysis from an interdisciplinary perspective drawing on anthropology sociology science and technology studies human computer interaction and media studies It is key reading for students and scholars in these disciplines as well as for professionals working in bereavement support capacities

Encyclopedia of Death & Human Experience Clifton D. Bryant,Dennis L. Peck,2009-07-15 This two volume Encyclopdia through multidisciplinary and international contributions and perspectives organizes defines and clarifies more than 300 death related concepts

On Moral Medicine M. Therese Lysaught,Joseph Kotva,Stephen E. Lammers,2012-07-20 In print for more than two decades On Moral Medicine remains the definitive anthology for Christian theological reflection on medical ethics This third edition updates and expands the earlier awardwinning volumes providing classrooms and individuals alike with one of the finest available resources for ethics engaged modern medicine

The Ethics of Everyday Life Michael Banner,2014-10-23 The moments in Christ's human life noted in the creeds his conception birth suffering death and burial are events which would likely appear in a syllabus for a course in social anthropology for they are of special interest and concern in human life and also sites of contention and controversy where what it is to be human is discovered constructed and contested In other words these are the occasions for profound and continuing questioning regarding the meaning of human life as controversies to do with IVF abortion euthanasia and the use of bodies or body parts post mortem plainly indicate Thus the following questions arise how do the instances in Christ's life represent human life and how do these representations relate to present day cultural norms expectations and newly emerging modes of relationship themselves shaping and framing human life How does the Christian imagination of human life which dwells on and draws from the life of Christ not only articulate its own but also come into conversation with and engage other moral imaginaries of the human Michael Banner argues that consideration of these questions requires study of moral theology therefore he reconceives its nature and tasks and in particular its engagement with social anthropology Drawing from social anthropology and Christian thought and practice from many periods and influenced especially by his engagement in public policy matters including as a member of the UK's Human Tissue Authority Banner aims to develop the outlines of an everyday ethics stretching from before the cradle to after the grave

The Moment of Death in Early Modern Europe, c. 1450-1800 Benedikt Brunner, Martin Christ, 2024-05-06

Both in our time and in the past death was one of the most important aspects of anyone's life The early modern period saw drastic changes in rites of death burials and commemoration One particularly fruitful avenue of research is not to focus on death in general but the moment of death specifically This volume investigates this transitional moment between life and death In many cases this was a death on a deathbed but it also included the scaffold battlefield or death in the streets

Death, Dying and Bereavement in a Changing World Alan R. Kemp, 2015-10-16 This title takes a comprehensive approach exploring the physical social psychological and spiritual dimensions of death dying and bereavement Through personal stories from real people Death Dying and Bereavement provides readers with a context for understanding their changing encounters with such difficult concepts

The Phenomenon of Mental Disorder Petr Kouba, 2014-11-18 This book provides a critical introduction to Heidegger's impact on psychiatry and psychology and has a focus on the application of his philosophy to psychiatry This is a complete revision of Heidegger's existential philosophy in the light of psychopathological phenomena Readers will find here a philosophical inquiry into the problem of mental disorder which shows Heidegger's own philosophy in a new light uncovering both its strengths and its weak points The author maps not only Heidegger's interaction with psychiatric thought as depicted in his Zollikon Seminars but also his influence on Swiss phenomenological psychiatry The work treats Heidegger in a critical way taking the phenomenon of mental disorder as a touchstone on which Heidegger's thought is tested The results of such a critical examination are important not only for a better understanding of psychopathological phenomena but also for a new understanding of Heidegger's approach to human existence This work treats the phenomenon of mental disorder as a philosophical problem that reflects the ontological character of human existence Heidegger's approach to mental disorder is confronted with the conceptions of Foucault Deleuze and Guattari in a novel way The book is more than just an historical overview as it highlights the limits of phenomenological thought in the area of psychiatry and it shows a possible way of moving beyond them This is a philosophical work with an interdisciplinary range Scholars of philosophy and those in the growing field of philosophy of psychiatry as well as those with an interest in Heidegger Studies will be particularly interested in this work

Donne's Religious Writing P.M. Oliver, 2014-09-19 This the first book to focus solely on Donne's religious writing also places his work in a literary context and attempts to reach a more realistic assessment of its originality than has been possible hitherto The prose works that are examined in detail include the controversial treatises Bianthanatos and Pseudo Martyr the satirical Ignatius His Conclave the much quoted Essays and Devotions and of course Donne's sermons

Death and Bereavement around the World John D. Morgan, Pittu Laungani, 2021-03-24 The make up of the contemporary nation state is increasingly multiethnic and statistics show that in many cases no one group is numerically the largest Interethnic relations are given global visibility by the media while much that happens among different groups depends on context Editors John D Morgan King's College London and Pittu Laungani South Bank and Manchester Universities England have gathered leading international authorities to produce Death and Bereavement Around the World the first of a five volume presentation and analysis of the ways different peoples experience dying and grief Effective bereavement care requires a knowledge of an individual's physical social educational and spiritual existence since the expressions of grief and the needs that emerge vary widely from one to another and are subject to past experiences cultural expectations personal beliefs and relationships An individual's identity comes from a sense of personal uniqueness solidarity with group ideals continuity with the past present and future and from the culture by which an individual is raised or adopted This first volume discusses the major religious traditions of the world and how they help followers deal with the fundamentals of life
